125,000 VICTORY PLANES

F.D.'s Program to Beat Axis

75,000 TANKS BY 1943

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt promised Congress and the nation today that the war would end in victory and outlined a tremendous production plan embracing an output of 125,000 planes, 75,000 tanks, 35,000 anti-aircraft guns, and 10,000,000 tons of shipping in 1943.

For this year—1942—he declared that "we shall produce 60,000 planes, 10,000 more than the goal set a year and a half ago," 45,000 tanks, 20,000 anti-aircraft guns and 8,000,000 deadweight tons of merchant vessels.

In a grimly-worded message delivered in person to a joint session of the Senate and House, the Chief Executive declared the task was hard and unprecedented—and the time short.

He spoke of sacrifices to come and said that it would appear in his budget message tomorrow that "our war program for the coming fiscal year will cost fifty-six billion dollars, or in other words, more than one-half of the estimated an-

The tide of battle, rolling down the Malayan peninsula, crept nearer to Singapore today as hard-pressed British forces yielded further ground at both ends of the ill-defined front under fresh Japanese attacks by land and sea.

On the eastern side of the peninsula, a communique disclosed, British troops were forced to withdraw yesterday from Kuantan, only 190 miles from Singapore.

(In London, a British military commentator said Japanese capture of the Kuantan airdrome would permit the invaders of

On the western side, the Malayan war front moved southward into another, the sixth, native-ruled state as Japanese forces filtered down the Malacca Straits coast into Selangor.

Japanese appearing in the area of Kuala Selangor, 240 miles from Singapore, were believed intent upon flanking the British out of their positions farther north along the Perak river.

The British said these Japanese detachments apparently were a part of the force which landed along the lower Perak, 60 miles rth of Kuala Selangor, Jan. 2 d which then moved southward ng a coastal footpath.

REDS TRAP NAZIS IN CRIMEA

Moscow Jan. 6 (AP)

Official News

Units of the Sevastopol naval base garrison in the Crimea have advanced at a number of points, smashing German outposts and destroying fortifications, the correspondent of Izvestia reported today.

The drive launched from the fortress yesterday was col-ordinated with other Russian offensives in the Crimea, and is continuing despite stubborn German resistance and stormy weather.

Troops which landed at Feodosiya in the southeastern part of the Crimea already have reached the Sea of Asov, cutting off the entire Kerch peninsula, the dispatch reported.

Germans, attempting to transfer part of their forces from the siege of Sevastopol to the Kerch peninsula to stem the tide, were showered with shells from long-range naval and coastal artillery and bombs from Black sea air craft, the account said.

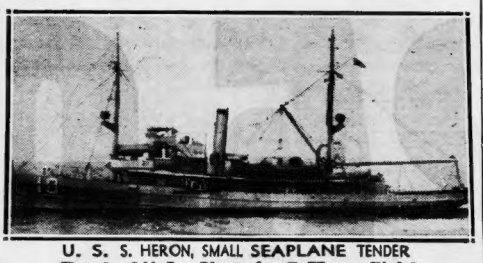
(The German high command, indicating the Russians are in full command of the sea at least about the Crimea, said its air force had bombed Russian transports off Yevpatoriya, 40 miles north of Sevastopol, where it was probable the Russians were attempting new landing operations to trap most of the German force in the Crimea.)

To the north, another Izvestia correspondent reported Red army units that routed the Germans from Tim, 40 miles east of Kursk, some days ago, were advancing rapidly.

The road in this sector, 280 miles south of Moscow, is littered for 15 miles with German corpses, mutilated machines an dvehicles, he said.

Although the Germans rushed reinforcements into the area and attempted fierce counterattacks, the Russians penetrated to intermediate German lines in violent engagements, the correspondent said

"The Germans did everything to retain this line," he said. "A unit commanded by Dobrovolsky outflanked the Fascists and penetrated their rear."



U. S. S. HERON, SMALL SEAPLANE TENDER
Beats Off Jap Planes in 7-Hour Fight

U. S. SHIP WINS 7-HOUR FIGHT OVER JAP PLANES

U. S. OFFICIAL Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)

A new tale of Navy heroism—a few men in a small American vessel fighting courageously against great odds and bagging at least one of an attacking swarm of great flying boats before, wounded itself, it made port safely—came from the Far East, where U. S. warships are fighting with the doughty Dutch and the British.

The U. S. S. Heron, a small seaplane tender, suffered a direct bomb hit during a seven-hour pounding by Japanese planes, the Navy said in a communique.

By fighting back as hard as his too-few guns would permit, and then running his little 84-ton ship into a haven, Lieut. William Leverette Kabler, a Virginian, won the cheers of his men, the Navy Cross, was given immediate promotion to lieutenant-commander. Peace time armament of the Heron was listed by the Navy ship's register as two three-inch anti-aircraft guns.

Neither the exact locale of the attack on the Heron, the extent of the damage it suffered, nor any other details were disclosed in the late-day communique.

It was the first the Navy had issued since it announced the evacuation of the Cavite Naval Base, simultaneously with the fall of Manila, Friday.

In a dramatic account of the fight, Navy communique No. 24 said:

"Far East—The U. S. S. Heron, a small seaplane tender, while engaged in action with enemy planes over a period of seven hours sustained one direct bomb hit and three very near misses. The Heron was attacked by a total

CHINESE TAKE OFFENSIVE IN 2-WAY DRIVE ON ICHANG

OFFICIAL NEWS Chungking, Jan. 6 (INS)

By JACK BELDEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

With Jap forces driven back 10 miles from Changsha after suffering one of their greatest defeats, Chinese troops launched a sudden two-pronged sweep against Ichang today.

Military dispatches said the Chinese debouched from the mountains of western Hupeh Province and sped down the gorges north of the Yangtze river to smash at Ichang from two sides.

Ichang is about 300 miles northwest of Changsha and represents the peak of the Jap advance in the Hupeh area. Last October the Chinese were within an ace of recapturing Ichang but were driven out at the last moment by the Japanese. At the time, Chinese charged

Java Likely Wavell Base

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Jan. 6 (AP)—Though Netherlands East Indies fighting strength was struck a blow today in the loss of a submarine in Japanese-patrolled waters, Dutch officials were heartened by official word that Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell will establish headquarters of the Allied supreme command on Indies territory.

Aneta news agency said exact location of Wavell headquarters has not been chosen, but the official Batavia radio broadcast that "definite and gratifying announcements have reached us that Java has been chosen the seat of the unified command."

Java contains Batavia, the capital, and Soerabaja, chief naval base.

The submarine lost was operating with the British fleet.

U. S. Official

At least seven enemy planes were hit by terrific anti-aircraft fire from the fortifications of Manila bay during a four-hour air attack, the War Department reported today.

The fortifications of Corregidor Island and Mariveles, and the forces of Gen. Douglas MacArthur were attacked by 50 planes yesterday, the department said, but material damage and casualties to the defenders were light.

Reappearance of hard-hitting U. S. bombers over the south Pacific gave the capital double grounds for elation — a fresh blow had been dealt units of the Japanese fleet, and it offered evidence American aerial reinforcements were arriving in the Far East.

There was a definite feeling that the united nations soon would be in a position to give a better account of themselves in the sky fighting.

DOWN 66 JAP PLANES

This expectation was encouraged by London reports from Burma crediting the American volunteer corps there with a two-day bag of 66 enemy planes at the cost of four of their own.

For results, the No. 1 exploit reported in the final U. S. communiques yesterday was the work of the Army bomber flight which blasted an enemy destroyer to the bottom of Davao bay in the Philippines and scored three direct hits on a battleship in the same waters. All the bombers got back undamaged to their secret base.

The big thriller, however, was the stirring battle put up by the U. S. S. Heron, a small seaplane tender, which fought off a seven-hour attack by 15 Japanese bombers in the Far East.

Between the Heron and the success of the Army bombers, attention was momentarily distracted from the grim stand Gen. MacArthur was making on Luzon with his nual national income."

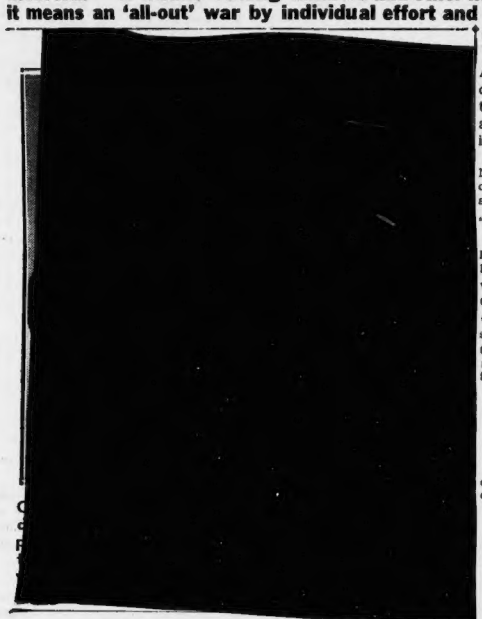
"This means taxes and bonds and bonds and taxes," Mr. Roosevelt asserted. "It means cutting luxuries and other non-essentials. In a word, it means an 'all-out' war by individual effort and family effort in a united country."



The chief executive mentioned American reverses at the outset of the conflict, but he declared that "powerful and offensive actions must and will be taken in proper time."

The consolidation of the United Nations' total war effort against our common enemies is being achieved, the President said.

"WE WILL FINISH WAR"

That was the purpose, he explained, of conferences which have been held during the past two weeks here, in Moscow and in Chungking and was the primary objective of the declaration of solidarity signed in Washington at the start of the new year by 26 nations united against the Axis forces.

"The militarists in Berlin and Tokyo started this war," the Chief Executice charged sternly. "But the massed, angered forces of common humanity will finish it."

The war cannot be waged in a defensive spirit, the President declared, adding:

"As our power and our resources are fully mobilized, we shall carry the attack against the enemy—we shall hit him and him him again wherever and whenever we can reach him.

'We must keep him far from our shores, for we intend to bring this battle to him on his own home grounds."

MacARTHUR STRATEGY MAKES JAPS PAY HIGH PRICE IN LUZON BATTLE

By AUSTEN LAKE

Every AEF soldier of the first World War understands with an internal tingle what is going on in the combat sectors of the Batan Peninsula and the fortress of Corregidor.

GEN. DOUGLAS MacARTHUR
Exacts Heavy Jap Price

The topography of the Philippine country, its climate and the stepped-up savagery of modern battle has changed. But the scenic-smash of war, the character of havoc, the sounds and sights, the wounds and reflexes of new soldiery has not altered from the old.

Thus the description of what is happening along the U. S.-Filipino lines in the mountainous province of Batan, Pampango and Zambales, where Gen. MacArthur's mixed force has dug in and fortified the natural barricades of jungle and rock, might be the modernized version of what happened before Amiens or St. Quentin or Soissons or St. Mihiel.

There is no mud now in the high hills of Batan, for this is the dry season in the archipelago of the China Sea. So our soldiers, both white and brown, have cut crevices and grooves or thrown up parapets in the geological formation of soft stone overplayed with fertile mould of a tropic wilderness. Their barbwire is strung on stakes of split bamboo and their parapets are piled with volcanic rock and gunnysacks of earth. Their machine guns have been posted to sweep the downslopes of a tumbled terrain, each stationed to command a natural angle of fire.

For shrewd general that he is, familiar with years in the Philippine bush, MacArthur has picked this as HIS own battle site and has forced the Japanese to come to him. Yesterday, today, and tomorrow they will come while life lasts, to die in droves. Japan holds human life cheap.

WAR HASN'T CHANGED

MacArthur is exacting his price from the bill that he promised to present an invader. A few months ago he had said:

"Certainly the islands can be taken. Any fort, stronghold or pillbox, however strong, can be taken, if the enemy is willing and able to pay the cost in lives and materials."

It's a "holding" war, where rawboned soldiers, grimy, unwashed, stubble-bearded and hungry-lean peer from carefully concealed slits or crevices for any movement among the downgrade foliage. The Japs, like prehistoric monkey-men, are sniping from bush and tree-top. It's a two-way game with death to the loser.

The balloon-shaped salient, from the beaches above Olongapo to the waterfront north of Manila, is being squeezed at its terminal points, like the neck of a bladder. At these two opposite nubs the glitter of bursting shells stab through overhanging smoke with sharp, twinkling flashes like the sparkle of innumerable hellographed messages.

There is a prodigious roar rising and falling in waves of sound. Isolated machine guns of the defenders beat a steady tattoo like the ruffle of war drums and from behind the barricades come the sharp crack of American rifles and the dull explosion of hand grenades.

For the manual effect of war

WAKEFIELD POLICEMAN SAVES INVALID IN FIRE

Blinded by smoke and dodging flames, Patrolman Morton Griffin of Wakefield, today braved death in rescuing an invalid woman from her home at 32 Nahant st., Wakefield.

Griffin was called to the home of Norman P. MacWhinnie by 7-year-old Claire MacWhinnie who discovered the fire.

Claire, clad only in nightclothes, ran to Griffin's house, banged on the door to rouse the sleeping occupants and screamed:

"Our house is on fire and mamma's in there."

The policeman carried Mrs. Esther MacWhinnie, 33, out of the house and sounded the alarm. The woman was taken to Griffin's home next door and medical aid called to treat her scalp which had been burned during the rescue.

Police said MacWhinnie, a milkman, had left the house shortly before his tiny daughter, who was playing alone, ran screaming to tell her mother of the fire. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

MacArthur's Courage Wins Praise in Italy

ROME, Jan. 6 (Andi Agency to AP)—The Turin newspaper La Stampa in an editorial today commended Gen. Douglas MacArthur's "resistance, courage, energy and obstinacy" in the American commander's defense of the Philippines.

"Events have shown that, if he is not abandoned by his native troops, he will prolong his resistance," the article declared.

Mme. Calve, French Opera Star, Dies at 75

VICHY, Jan. 6 (AP)—The death of Mme. Emma Calve, 75, famous French opera singer for whom the Composer Massenet created the title roles in "La Navarraise" and "Sapho," was announced today. She died at Millau.

Mme. Calve

It was in Aeyron, at La Dastide, that Emma Calve was born on Aug. 15, 1866, and it was from the convent at Millau that she went out to begin her musical education at the age of 15.

Best-liked by American audiences in the title role of Carmen (which she detested), Mme. Calve sang at the Metropolitan for 13 consecutive years after making her debut there as Santuzza in "Cavalleria Rusticana" on Nov. 29, 1893.

It was a source of pride to her that she had appeared in every large city and had visited every state in the United States. In addition, she made a world tour in 1910-1911.

So. Boston Block Taken by Navy

Boston's importance as a foremost military and naval center loomed today, with the Navy's confiscation of a city block of 13 ninestory buildings on Summer st., South Boston, for use as a giant barracks for 10,000 sailors.

The block is bounded by D and E sts., across Summer st. from the Navy's new drydocks and repair yards, only a short distance from Commonwealth Pier, recently taken over by the Navy, and Boston Army Base.

Bishop Dobson, 73, Dies in Liverpool

LONDON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Bishop Robert Dobson, 73, vicar-general of the Roman Catholic diocese of Loverpool and a native of New Orleans, died at his Liverpool home today.

He was one of few Americans who ever held high Catholic office in Britain. Bishop Dobson came to England early in his boyhood and studied for the priesthood. He was ordained in 1891 and made vicar-general in 1928.

17 Air Crash Skeletons Found

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 6 (AP)—Dispatches from Corumba said today a hunter had chanced across wreckage of the trimotor plane "Juan Delvalle," which crashed Nov. 4, 1940, in the swamps near Puerto Suarez, Bolivia, killing 17 persons.

Among the passengers were members of a Brazil-Bolivia railroad commission.

The hunter reported finding 17 skeletons inside the plane, which was only partly damaged, and money and jewels valued at $150,000.

Navy Promotes Roosevelt, Jr.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., has been promoted from the rank of ensign to that of lieutenant (junior grade) Navy officials disclosed today.

Young Roosevelt, a naval reservist, was eligible for promotion last July, a Navy source said and "no favoritism has been shown in advancing him." He is on active duty at an undisclosed place.

The promotion is on a temporary basis, it was said, but will be permanent when his number is reached in the Navy's regular promotion routine.

HESS' FLIGHT SHOOK NAZI PARTY TO FOUNDATION

By PIERRE J. HUSS

(Copyright, 1942. Reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

In the full story of Rudolf Hess—Pierre J. Huss, eight years chief Berlin correspondent of International News Service, reveals how close the Nazi party came to disintegration under the impact of Hess' wild flight to England and how Hitler succeeded in dealing a stab-in-the-back blow to Russia.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (INS)—Torn by emotion, Hess sat quietly through Hitler's war in the Balkans and the march of his armies down to the Aegean sea.

Events in Greece and the minor British resistance merely convinced him more than ever that England would welcome a deal. His health bothered him and he spent two weeks in a sanitarium before going back to his desk.

On the calendar before him was a note that he was to visit his great friend Willy Messerschmitt in Augsburg, in the south of Germany, during the coming week and make a speech at the great airplane experimental works there. He is also slated to make a speech at a rally of Germans from abroad in Augsburg on the succeeding Saturday.

Pierre Huss

Hess' hobby was flying fast planes, and his friend Messerschmitt was always willing to close an eye to the Fuehrer's edict against such private indulgences. Flying your own plane around brought relief from the troubles and tribulations on the earth below.

Hess long ago had sensed the intriguing little Nazi Bormann, his deputy, always rubbing elbows with Hitler.

ESCAPE FROM TROUBLES

Up in the air, all by himself, Hess would be at ease, away from the quarreling men of Berlin. He decided that come what may, he'd keep the date in Augsburg.

I remember well the night of Monday, May 12, 1941. I was in the famed restaurant Taverne in Berlin, owned and run by devil-may-care Willy Lehmann, who launched to fame in the old days as pioneer film director of stars such as Pola Negri and Lya de Putti.

The phone rang for me about 9 p. m. A man who never called me on the phone unless it was really something reported Hess had vanished; flown the coop in a plane, he had. But an official communique would soon come, explaining Hess had gone crazy.

NEWS GOES TO WORLD

I could take a chance, the voice on the wire added, and get the story out over Berne, although it wasn't dead certain yet that the announcement would be forthcoming that night.

I knew that the man on the wire was safe, so, only minutes later, the I. N. S. was breaking that story to a startled world.

Hess had skipped on Saturday, going to Augsburg on schedule to talk to the Messerschmitt workers there on Friday and to make his public speech to the Germans from abroad on the following day.

He stayed with Messerschmitt on Friday and in the afternoon inspected and flew around in the newest little air devil his friend was just getting okayed for the Luftwaffe. It was a masterpiece, under three tons in weight and fast.

Next day Hess was off again for a joy ride up in the clouds. He never came back and in the evening hours parachuted to earth in Scotland.

NAZI STOCK DROPS

In Berlin, the stock of the Nazi party dropped with a bang, reaching the point where a brown uniformed stormtrooper could hardly appear on the street without getting a razz.

Inside his million-dollar chancellory, Hitler was roaring mad. But after hell-raising up and down the halls and rooms all night, he cooled down and summoned a powwow to put the best face on what had happened. Later branding Hess insane, an order went out to all government officials and public employes prohibiting further discussion of the Hess case.

Neither press nor radio ever again broached the matter, not even the debate on it in the House of Commons. Hess was gone, an official outcast and branded a maniac by Hitler himself. Yet everybody knew it wasn't as simple as all that, and Hitler knew it best of all.

He sat in his office with the bust of Frederick the Great and the painting of Bismarck above the fireplace [illegible] of his troops in accordance with prepared plans. In a few days the roads leading from the Balkans and toward the east teemed with German troops, hastening to assigned positions.

In Berlin, Hitler banked on two things: that the English would reject Hess and anything he had to tell them and that nobody either in England or Russia would seriously believe what Hess had to say.

Cleverly he kept the suspicion alive that Hess had gone with his own knowledge, with Goebbels spreading it tirelessly around outside that Hess was a crackpot. The rare magic worked, although the Russians began moving troops, and soon again Hitler was riding high.

And before attacking Russia, he appointed little Nazi Bormann successor to Hess.

The next chapter of this revealing series will deal with the friction in high circles of the Nazi hierarchy—particularly the smouldering squabble and unmitigated jealousy between Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering and Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop.

Tobin Ouster Ruling Asked

Ouster proceedings against Mayor Maurice J. Tobin came up once more in Superior Court today in petitions filed by both sides.

Judge Frederick W. Fosdick was called on to revoke permission he had granted to add two names to the original list of taxpayers who signed the petition. The two were added when one of the original five taxpayers, Anne L. Childs, was not available to sign.

Since that time the Childs signature has been added through power of attorney held by Albert West. Judge Fosdick also will be asked to rule on a petition which now contains the names of seven taxpayers, instead of the original five.

After Judge Fosdick's hearing, the case was expected to be turned over by Chief Justice John P. Higgins to a panel of three justices he will appoint.

Bill to Put Women In Army Wins Favor

By GRIFFING BANCROFT

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6—Putting aside all formalities, the new session of Congress today plunged into work on a sweeping list of war measures, including the far-reaching bill to create a women's auxiliary army corps.

With the measure to permit American women to serve as non-combatant soldiers as do women in England apparently assured of ultimate approval, work started on the following:

1—House interstate committee started executive consideration of the daylight saving time bill which would permit the President to order clocks advanced so as to save light and power. Chairman Lea (D) of California predicted approval today.

2—Chairman Vinson (D.) of Georgia called the House naval affairs committee and predicted it would approve two important measures—one to provide $845,000,000 more for facilities for shipbuilding and repairing and the other, already approved by the Senate, to increase enlisted strength of the Navy from 300,000 to 500,000 and the Marine Corps from 60,000 to 104,000 men.

3—House military affairs committee was assembled to consider the bill to permit Civilian Defense Director LaGuardia to purchase gas masks, fire-fighting equipment and other air raid protection material for cities.

At the same time Rep. May (D.) of Kentucky, chairman of this committee, said he was studying the women's Army bill and declared hearings would start in a week.

Rep. Edith N. Rogers (R.) of Massachusetts, author of the measure, said she had checked details with the War Department which gave approval.

"Thousands of women are ready to volunteer. I have been getting that kind of response from all over the country," Mrs. Rogers said.

The bill would create a WAAC in which women could volunteer to serve in non-combatant duties at the same pay as prevails in the Army—$21 a month and up.

YD Memorial Dedicated

Memories of the valiant part played by the old Yankee Division in six World War battles were recalled today as a challenge to soldiers everywhere in New England, following the dedication of the YD Memorial at Camp Edwards.

In the glow of late afternoon, mothers of YD boys of today, fathers who served in the fighting World War division, state officials and more than 1000 officers and soldiers gathered in front of 26th Division headquarters for the impressive dedicatory exercises.

Gov. Saltonstall, Maj.-Gen. Francis B. Wilby, former commanders of the division, and prominent veterans were among those present.

The memorial forms the base of a 100-foot flagpole, with bronze plaques bearing the name of the division's commander in the first World War, commanders since then and the battles on the western front in which the division won lasting fame.

Space also has been left on the concrete, fan-shaped pedestal for plaques to chronicle the future achievements of the Yankee Division.

Inquest Friday At State Farm

Judge William C. Rowe of Brockton today headed the inquest called to meet Friday to fix responsibility in the attempted break at Bridgewater State Farm, during which three guards were slain.

At the same time Plymouth County officials revealed the setting for the inquest had been shifted from Brockton courthouse to the Farm.

Reason for the shift, it was learned, was disclosure that two inmates called to give testimony were planning to attempt another break during their temporary absence from the institution.

Booms in Britain

LONDON, Jan. 6 (AP)—As the result of a growing shortage of liquor due to wartime conditions, the bootlegger is raising his head in Britain as he did in prohibition days in the United States.

His advent has been marked by the appearance of poor quality liquor in many night spots in the West End and in the suburbs, where prices for liquor refreshments have rocketed.

Hub Camp Fire Girls Meet to Teach Adults

An emergency meeting of the Greater Boston Camp Fire Girls will be held at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow at 8 p. m. to instruct adult members on the part they must play in the civilian defense plan.

The Camp Fire Girls, Greater Boston Council, are members in the Greater Boston United War Fund campaign to raise $7,600,000, which begins Jan. 22.

F. D.'s Naval Aide Heads Annapolis

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Capt. John Beardall, President Roosevelt's naval aide, has been appointed by the Navy to succeed Rear-Admiral Russell Wilson as superintendent of the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Beardall, who is 54 and whose promotion to the rank of rear-admiral is now before the Senate, is expected to take over the new post at the end of January.

Nazis Fear Typhus, Ban Balkan Travel

BERN, Switzerland, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Swiss telegraph agency reported from Riga, Latvia, today that travel to Germany from Lithuania, Estonia, Latvia and White Russia has been forbidden by decree as a result of numerous cases of typhus in the Baltic sea.

Odd Twists In News Not All About War

THIS IS WAR

CHICAGO, Jan. 6 (AP) — John Warneck, hit by an automobile, was taken to a hospital, where physicians, after bandaging his more serious cuts, told him it was imperative he remain at the hospital pending X-rays.

"No," said Warneck, "I can't. I have to be at my steel mill by 5 in the morning to adjust the oil gauge. This is war, you know." And off he went.

SOME KIND OF A RECORD

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 6 (AP)—Firemen at station No. 2 went to the blaze, put it out and were back in the station—all in less than 15 minutes.

The fire (faulty wiring) was in the rear wall of station No. 2.

PRO-NAZI BOOKS ARE SEIZED AT CHRISTIAN FRONT MEETING

Grimly ignoring protests of Francis P. Moran, Boston director of the Christian Front, police and FBI agents today pushed a sweeping drive to strip the city of Nazi and other enemy propaganda.

The drive was launched with seizure from Moran of 51 volumes written and published by George S. Viereck, registered Nazi propagandist, at a meeting of the Christian Front group in Hibernian hall, Roxbury.

Screeching that police had no right to take his property, Moran today sought an interview with Police Comr. Joseph F. Timilty, who sent his men to the meeting and earlier had issued general orders to scour the city for the subversive writings that have filtered into bookshops and other places.

SAYS HE'LL FIGHT

And although the Christian Front leader promised a bitter battle in a fight for return of the volumes, police said the seizure had only intensified the drive to rid the city of other copies, as well as similarly intended literature.

Moran declared he had told Commr. Timilty he was only holding the books and that he would not attempt to sell them until the war had ended.

His protest fell on deaf ears, however, when Inspectors William Goldston and Benjamin Goodman stepped to the speakers' platform and picked up the volumes. Scattered through the hall were more than a score of plainclothes police and FBI agents.

ABUSED JEWS

All listened through Moran's speech, a berating of England, the Jewish race and Walter Winchell. Hearst columnist, who in a broadcast warned that Moran had possession of the books.

Hub Council Fails to Elect Head

Members of the Boston City Council today embarked on a little election campaign all their own after an initial effort to choose a council president resulted in a hopeless deadlock.

Councilor Maurice H. Sullivan of Brighton showed the most consistent strength throughout the voting but, on the 11th and final ballot of the day he received eight votes, one less than Councilor James M. Langan of Jamaica Plain. Twelve votes are necessary for election.

With this, the council postponed further voting until next Monday, giving the members nearly a week to enlist support for the post. Sullivan led the field with six votes on the first ballot and remained in the lead until Langan picked up strength of the final vote.

The council conferred after Mayor Tobin's inauguration at Symphony Hall, with Councilor William F. Dwyer, as acting president by reason of seniority.

In his inaugural address Mayor Tobin urged citizens to be prepared for the day that may never come by enlisting in some branch of civilian defense rather than to meet adversity with unpreparedness. He said he would appoint a committee to plan a program of major improvements to provide employment for thousands of our citizens after peace has been declared.

Hull Blasts Japs for Treatment of Whites

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (INS)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull condemned as monstrous the reported action of the Japanese military authorities threatening to shoot any white person found on the streets of Manila.

Hull said the reported action was so monstrous that he wished to obtain a fuller report on it from the War Department before making any formal statement.

YD Memorial Dedicated

Memories of the valiant part played by the old Yankee Division in six World War battles were recalled today as a challenge to soldiers everywhere in New England, following the dedication of the YD Memorial at Camp Edwards.

In the glow of late afternoon, mothers of YD boys of today, fathers who served in the fighting World War division, state officials and more than 1000 officers and soldiers gathered in front of 26th Division headquarters for the impressive dedicatory exercises.

Gov. Saltonstall, Maj.-Gen. Francis B. Wilby, former commanders of the division, and prominent veterans were among those present.

The memorial forms the base of a 100-foot flagpole, with bronze plaques bearing the name of the division's commander in the first attack comes.

and theaters should stay where they are and obey instructions.

The thing to remember is to use common sense and keep cool. Direct bomb hits are few and most casualties are caused by flying glass and debris.

Among the many "Dont's" the committee has issued are the following: Don't try to get far from where you are after an alarm sounds; don't go into a Boston subway for shelter; don't make telephone calls; don't get the idea that civilian defense is a job for someone else. Find a job for yourself, even if it is no more than making your own home secure, and do it now.

And to check up a bit on necessities, the committee asks all residents the following questions: Have you cleaned out your attic? Have you water and sand handy for fire protection? Have you a flashlight? Has your firewarden picked out the safest place for you and your family? Have you set aside a jar of water for emergency in case a mail is burst?

Meanwhile, James M. Landis, director of New England civilian defense, declared a special set of rules for churchgoers would be announced within a few days, following a conference with Catholic, Protestant and Jewish church leaders.

At the same time, Landis announced that precautions have been taken for threater goers. Among the rules laid down for those are the following: Remain in your seat, the show must continue, theater owners must appoint air wardens from among their staff, no theater must be allowed to become overcrowded, during an air raid, those seeking shelter in a theater must be admitted free.

Keenan Again Member of Bar

Wilfred B. Keenan, 57, of May st., Jamaica Plain, disbarred in 1934 on jury-fixing charges, today was again a member of the Massachusetts bar after re-admission by Superior Court Judge Allan G. Buttrick.

Earlier a board of bar examiners had reported Keenan possessed "the intellectual qualifications and legal attainments required for his admission."

More than 25 witnesses, including a number of public officials, testified to Keenan's good character, while Damon E. Hall, former bar association president, opposed the petition. Hall declared that jury-fixing undermined "more than any other act" the public faith in the courts' integrity.

Horse Thieves Still Scarce, So Society Aids War

THOMPSONVILLE, Ct., Jan. 6 (AP)—The Enfield Society for the Detection of Thieves and Robbers has decided that the nest egg it had laid aside for tracking down criminals might best be employed by Uncle Sam in pursuit of the Axis.

Founded 119 years ago primarily to catch horse thieves, the society is required by its constitution to keep $500 on hand at all times for detection purposes.

Horse thieves have been few and far between in recent years and, despite automobile tire rationing, members don't think there will be any more. So, at the annual meeting, it was voted to invest the $500 in U. S. defense bonds.

PLUS FEDERAL TAX SECOND FLOOR

Auto Tire Rationing Begins in Bay State

Distribution of new tires was started in Massachusetts today for the first time under the federal rationing program.

In all sections of the state, local boards doled out their meager allotments of new tires, under the general supervision of the state rationing board.

Administrator Thomas M. Joyce meanwhile ordered the local boards to publish each week, in newspapers and on town and city hall bulletin boards, names of auto owners who have been granted tire purchase permits.

Wide publicity given the names it is believed, will make the job of the local tire rationing boards easier by freeing them from political or economic pressure of groups or politicians, and only those listed by the Office of Production Administration as entitled to tires will get them.

Stations which must inspect the worn tires before they can be replaced by the rationed ones, "are expected to do the job gratis as part of the war effort," Joyce told the local boards.

The local authorities, he said, may choose from a list supplied by the state board, or pick their own inspection stations.

Meanwhile, an investigation of possible profiteering in the sale of retreaded and recapped tires was started by John P. McBride, Massachusetts director of the necessaries of life.

McBride said he had received complaints that prices had been advanced from $4.50 to as high as $11 for the popular 16x600 size.

Philadelphia Ledger Suspends Publication

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger, publication halted by a federal court, was headed today for the graveyard of liquidation. The 27-year-old newspaper's end came last night with rejection by the court of an employe proposal to operate it without pay for a week while efforts were continued to find new capital.

Clarification of the paper's Associated Press membership and of its good will, said the court, were all that remained before formal appointment of a receiver.

U. S. Debt Passes 58 Billion Mark

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Treasury announced today the federal debt passed $58,000,000,000 on the eve of a record-breaking budget which may call eventually for a debt of nearly $100,000,000,000.

The Treasury said the debt reached $58,018,021,087 Jan. 3. That was an increase of approximately $13,000,000,000 in the last year.

Secret Curley Quiz Recalls 1922 Ruling

With the matter of the city's $42,629 judgment against former Gov. James M. Curley due to come up again Thursday behind closed doors, with reporters barred, it was recalled today a Supreme Court justice, 20 years ago, had decided in favor of a reporter in such a situation.

As the former governor's financial affairs were being probed yesterday in West Roxbury court, 75-year-old Special Justice Bert E. Holland suddenly moved the hearing to his private law office at 73 Tremont st. and excluded the press.

"Your Honor rules that this, in effect, is a star-chamber proceeding?" he was asked by one of the reporters.

"Well, no—if that's what you intend to say about it, as you may—I am not going to have any (reporters) here," the judge replied curtly.

RULING 20 YEARS AGO

Two decades ago the late Justice Henry King Braley of Supreme Court, at the request of a Boston newspaper reporter who had been barred from a hearing being held in the private office of a master, ruled that while the court was where the master sat and the reporter had a right to be present so long as he behaved himself.

Also it was recalled today that in 1927 that the Supreme Court upset a case before Judge David F. Dillon of superior court because of the fact that judge, jury, clerk and deputy sheriffs were taken from the courthouse during the trial to hear testimony in Brookline and Watertown.

REPORTERS BARRED

The ability or inability of Curley to pay the City of Boston judgment was pretty well up in the air when Judge Holland took his extraordinary action and packed the case intown to his office.

The former governor and three-time mayor of the city had given testimony he was now living on borrowed money, and his secretary was detailing the governor's expenses during the past year when the judge called a halt to the hearing, the sixth held n the city's quest for payment.

Gathering up numerous documents, files and sheets of figures, all concerned in the case were compelled to move in town to the judge's law office.

The reporters entered the office, too, but were quickly informed by the judge that they were not wanted, the julge making the curious statement:

"I find it very unsatisfactory having four in my courtroom. While one was in, the other three were out. So I think that we will not have any here."

"Is that your honor's ruling?" he was asked by one reporter.

"Yes, that's the way I feel about it,' 'the judge replied.

Then it was that he sidestepped a question as to whether he ruled, in effect, that it was a star-chamber proceeding, and the reporters moved outside at his request .

While the hearing was still open to the people in West Roxbury court, Curley had testified that he didn't think he had any money of his own at the start of 1941.

However, Curley's secretary, Lawrence W. Costello of Oakfield ter., Jamaica Plain, who said he was paid $25 a week, testified that the former Governor received approximately $53,700 during 1941 and paid out about $46,900 during the same period.

Curley testified his income for 1941 included $12,000 for the sale of Old Silver Beach holdings, $17,500 for the sale of McCarthy Diesel, a check for $3500 from the Fuller Engineering group, and $4000 in settlement for an injury to his leg, suffered in an automobile accident.

"As far as I am concerned," he said, "I have been living on borrowed money for quite some time and I still am. But I expect to work out of it."

Sugar Trading Resumed

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Trading in the domestic sugar futures contract was resumed today at the ceiling price of 2.99 cents a pound imposed by the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange in line with a federal ceiling.

Trading in domestic futures was suspended on Dec. 31 after the United States announced plans to buy the entire 1942 Cuban crop at 2.65 cents a pound.

VESTLESS SUITS LOOM IN WAR CUT

The old chestnut about the tight wad who wouldn't even part with the sleeves of his vest won't be appropriate in 1942—it seems men aren't even going to have vests.

At least this was startling innovation predicted at the annual New England Clothiers' and Furnishers' Ass'n convention which today continued sessions at the Parker House.

Clothiers generally felt that the ever-increasing demands of materials for the all-out war effort would soon mean that a cut must be made in civilian apparel. And it seems that vests have been nominated to take the cut.

At the same time, it was emphasized that 1942 styles will stress comfort and that sports clothes will come into their own. Shoulders again will be natural and sports coats longer and styled for complete ease.

Due to the present government demands on wool and the fact that all the fur for the making of men's hats is imported, clothiers predict that over 50 per cent of the hats and overcoats in the future will have casein fibre from skimmed milk in their construction.

Blimps Guard Atlantic Coast From Raiders

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Navy has put a fleet of blimps armed with depth bombs, machine guns and cannon at work guarding the nation's coastlines from submarines and prowling raiders.

On the Atlantic Coast the first squadron of six blimps has already taken the air, the Navy said today. They are the first of scores to be used.

Congress has appropriated money for 48 of the airships—250 feet long and about one-twentieth the size of the rigid airship Hindenburg—and $6,000,000 for the establishment of three bases. One is at South Weymouth, Mass., another at Elizabeth City, N. C., and a third at Sunnyvale, Cal., the Army air base the Navy has taken over.

Meantime hundreds of men are being trained in the technique of lighter-than-air maneuvers that combine sailing and flying.

The Navy apparently is convinced that patrolling airships are among the most effective weapons against submarine attacks on shipping in coastal waters. Capt. C. E. Rosendahl, veteran dirigible commander and proponent of lighter-than-air craft, calls the blimp the "dread of submarine captains" and credits it with an important part in halting the World War submarine "scourge."

Carrying a crew of eight, the patrol airships can hover, drift or, under power, travel more than twice as fast as a submarine.

10 CHILDREN OVERCOME BY GAS IN PORTLAND, ME.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 6 — Fourteen persons, including 10 children and a young mother, were rushed to the Maine General Hospital today as the result of a gas main break which filled four downtown tenement houses and threatened wholesale deaths.

Four of the victims, reported in a critical condition, were found unconscious in their beds. Police and fire department squads revived them with inhalators.

The others collapsed after fleeing from their homes. A total of 35 persons in 11 families were forced to the chilly out-of-doors as gas fumes poured through the affected buildings on Pearl st., between Oxford and Laurel sts.

In a serious condition at Maine General Hospital were:

Mrs. Florence Harris, 23; her five-months-old daughter, Sandra; another daughter, Barbara, 2; Virginia McDaniel, 14; and Arnold Green, 10.

Also treated at the hospital were another Harris child, Darlene, 1; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDonald and their four children, Herbert, 7, Clyde and Claire, six-year-old twins, and Roberta, 2.

Mrs. Mae McDonald, 52, and Florence McDaniel, 18, who were among a dozen persons given refuge at the Portland police headquarters, fell ill a short time later and likewise were sent to the hospital.

Sally Rand Bride But Not In Church

GLENDORA, Cal., Jan. 6 (AP)—This is Sally Rand's wedding day, but the ceremony which will make the fan dancer Mrs. Thurkel Greenough will be read in the rectory instead of Grace Episcopal Church.

Sally Rand

The rector, Rev. Henry Scott Rubel, said it would be contrary to Episcopal church law concerning marriage of divorced persons to conduct the wedding in the church. He said the question had been raised by the Grace Church vestry and referred to Bishop W. Bertrand Stevens of Los Angeles, who cited the canon.

"With a little more time for appeal and investigation, things might have been otherwise, but, unfortunately, the time was lacking," Mr. Rubel commented.

Greenough, Red Lodge, Mont., rancher and rodeo bronc buster, divorced his first wife, Mrs. Helen Greenough, Dec. 16 in Butte, Mont.

BRITISH DEAL NEW BLOW TO AXIS IN LIBYA

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 6 (AP)—More Axis prisoners flowed back to British camps as the imperial forces in Libya kept up their pressure both in the forward part of their westward push and in the mopping up of Axis resistance centers far to the rear, British headquarters announced today.

Another blow to the remaining main forces of the Germans and Italians in the Agedabia area, about 90 miles south of Bengasi, was indicated by the communique, but it gave no details.

"Our mobile columns and air forces again were active in the Agedabia area where concentrations of enemy mechanical transport were successfully engaged," it said.

Evidently determined to clear the rear of isolated Axis holdout garrisons and release British forces for a further westward push, the Royal Air Force was said to have continued intensive attacks on the Halfaya garrison.

Enemy strength there and at Salum are estimated as about equal that of Bardia, the frontier post which fell Friday, and from which the British so far have taken 7982 prisoners, including 1804 Germans. Nine hundred of the captives were wounded.

Caruso's Son Slaps Girl, Escapes Jail

CHICAGO, Jan. 6 (INS)—Enrico Caruso, Jr., 38, the late great tenor's son who only last week told happily how he had at last found contentment selling paintings for a Chicago department store, was unhappy in the extreme today.

Things went all right at the department store, but on a bus en route there Caruso tangled with Miss Madilene Nelson, 38, a hotel beautician, and came off second best.

Enrico Caruso, Jr.

It seems that the bus was crowded, and Caruso was forced to stand. That alone was some annoyance, but the singer's son became positively irate when a lady—Miss Nelson, he told police—tried to push by him.

Caruso for many years sought to follow in his father's footsteps as a singer, and he did sing in two motion pictures and at important night clubs. He never became a great singer, but on the other hand he is not used to being pushed around.

SLAPS GIRL'S FACE

So he drew himself up to his full height and said:

"Madame, there is no room up front."

Miss Nelson was of a different opinion, and again sought to move forward. This time, she testified in court later, Enrico stepped on her foot and then slapped her face so that she cried out in anguish.

The crowd on the bus became enraged at Caruso, and cries of "lynch him" and "throw him off" were heard before the vehicle stopped. Then Caruso, still holding his ground but looking very unhappy, was "rescued" by a policeman.

APOLOGY OR JAIL

Before Judge Leon Edelman, Caruso admitted that he slapped Miss Nelson, and said she had called him an "ignoramus." Judge Edelman gave Caruso the choice of apologizing or going to jail.

"Madame, I am sorry," said Caruso, with a drawing-room bow.

Miss Nelson accepted the apology, and the case was dismissed.

FBI, Police, on Trail of Aliens Keeping Guns

With the deadline past for aliens from enemy countries to give up guns, cameras and short-wave radios, Boston police detectives today conferred with FBI agents on efforts to trace weapons and equipment not turned over to the authorities.

Officials said the total of 10 firearms, 51 radios and 103 cameras fell below expectations and that some aliens apparently sought to evade the federal order by giving the prohibited articles to relatives and friends who are citizens.

Bus Hits Messenger Who Fell From Bike

Robert Gould, 17-year-old Western Union messenger boy, of Nead st., West Somerville, was reported recovering today from injuries suffered when he fell from his bicycle into the path of a Boston Elevated bus in North Harvard st., Brighton.

He was pinned against a snowbank and wedged under the bus. Passengers helped lift the vehicle in order to free the youth.

Pay Boost for Snow Removal Workers

Pay raises of 16 skilled mechanics who keep in operation the State's 137 four-wheel drive snow removal trucks were approved today because contractors working on defense projects are hiring the best men away.

Director William H. Doyle of the State division of personnel announced a wage boost of 10 cents an hour, to 85 cents.

Lone Nazi Bomber Raids English Coast

LONDON, Jan. 6 (AP)—A predawn foray by a lone invading bomber today caused some damage at a place on the northeast coast of England, the government announced. No casualties were reported.

CAPTAIN ACCUSED CREW OF U. S. FREIGHTER

In the first action taken against American seamen since the war started, Capt. David W. Bailie of the American freighter Dunboyne was under orders today to file formal complaints against crew members for failing to obey their superior officers at sea.

The ship was forced to return to Boston to undergo extensive repairs suffered in an Atlantic storm during an overseas voyage with war supplies.

On its arrival here, the U. S. Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation ordered a hearing at the Appraisers Stores to determine if necessary precautions against storm damage had been taken. Capt. Charles M. Lyons, in charge of the hearing, recommended filing of complaints against the crew as the hearing opened. Capt. Bailie charged that many members of his crew displayed a spirit of non-cooperation and moved slowly in doing their work about ship. The only time they showed co-operation, he said, was on the turnback trip from Halifax to Boston.

"The entire deck crew," he testified, "was unsatisfactory, was interested only in overtime work on shipboard and in liquor and girls while in port."

Jap Singapore Drive Pushes British Back

had "interfered" with British troop movements westward and had resulted in casualties on both sides.

LARGE RUBBER DISTRICT

From Kuala Selangor, good roads run eastward and to the railroad to the south which connects with Kuala Lumpur, second largest and most important city in Malaya still in British hands. Kuala Lumpur is the center of a rubber-producing district.

Today's war bulletin said there had been no landing south of Kuala Selangor, however.

Announcement of the British retreat from Kuantan was the first British news from that area since late last week, when a communique acknowledged that the Japanese had entered the outskirts of the town.

British headquarters failed to disclose the extent of either of the new withdrawals.

As the battle lines drew gradually nearer to Singapore, the city was again attacked overnight by Japanese air raiders, but they kept at a high altitude and an official announcement said they had done only slight damage to non-military targets. One casualty was reported.

The Japanese raiders also stabbed at nearby Johore, where anti-aircraft guns were credited officially with downing one plane and damaging another.

Kuala Selangor is the capital of Selangor Province, just south of Perak state where the British have been attempting to make a stand against a Japanese overland drive that has forced them to yield bit by bit approximately 200 miles of the Malayan coastline.

The city is connected by rail with Kuala Lumpur, 35 miles to the southeast, through which runs a railway linking the Perak front with Singapore.

The thrust at Kuala Selangor was disclosed in a communique which said the move apparently was executed in an attempt to force the British to abandon their present defense lines to the north.

(The communique failed to say whether the Japanese had made a new landing at Kuala Selangor or whether the drive was launched from the mouth of the Bernam river, about 40 miles to the north where London advices said yesterday the invaders had effected a landing.)

JAP PLANES DOWNED

It appeared that the British lines were established on the south side of the Perak river, the mouth of which is approximately 60 miles north of Kuala Selangor.

Although the front in central Malaya was ill-defined, it appeared that the British were in possession of a salient which extended well north of the points reached by the Japanese on both coasts.

The communique announcing the thrust at Kuala Selangor told of continued widespread Japanese aerial activity over Malaya, but reported destruction of two planes at Kluang, near Port Swettenham on the west coast. A third was listed as probably destroyed.

Japs Claim Capture Of Malaya Airdrome

TOKYO, Jan. 6 (Official Broadcast Recorded by AP)—Domei reported today that Japanese troops had overcome resistance by about 1000 Australians to capture the airdrome of Kuantan, on the east coast of Malaya 190 miles north of Singapore.

"Japanese detachments continuing the advance southward on the east coast of Malaya after occupation of the strategic point of Kuantan Dec. 30 reached the airdrome of Kuantan four miles south of town the night of Jan. 3," the news agency said.

(The British acknowledged today they had withdrawn from the Kuantan area.)

Brest and Cherbourg Hard Hit by RAF

U. S. BAGS 66 JAP PLANES IN NEW AIR WAR STEPUP

battle-tired American and Filipino veterans.

MacArthur, according to the last reports, was continuing to give an excellent account of himself, maneuvering his badly outnumbered troops so as to force the Japanese to resort to mostly frontal assaults for every inch of ground gained.

The reappearance of American bombers in the South Pacific theater promised to increase the price the enemy will have to pay for the Philippines, by attacks on transports, supply ships and their naval escorts.

SITUATION UNIMPROVED

However, there was no indication of an improvement in MacArthur's local situation, for his pressing need is fighter planes and fields from which they can operate.

The communique announcing the bomber attacks on Japanese warships off Davao was the first mention of American air activity in the Philippine area in many days. Previous advices from the islands have intimated broadly that the strength of the defending air force had been steadily whittled away by combat losses and ground bombing until it was all but wiped out.

Moreover, Japanese advances have accounted for all the known major flying fields both on Luzon, the largest island, and on Mindanao, the second largest.

The belief here, therefore, was that the Army bombers probably were operating from bases in the Netherlands East Indies, or possibly from fields on Australian-Mandated Islands.

The bombers were officially described as "heavy" types, and some in this category could make the run to Davao from the Australian mainland.

DUTCH RAIDS MADE

The Dutch already have conducted one successful attack on Japanese vessels off Davao. On December 23 flying Dutchmen scored a direct hit on a 10,000-ton enemy tanker, which burst into flames, and damaged other shipping in the bay. That was prior to Japanese capture of Davao.

Since then Netherlands authorities have been stressing the damage that could be inflicted on the enemy from East Indies bases if additional planes were rushed to that theater. Prime Minister Churchill replied a week ago with the pledge that Britain and the United States were going to the aid of those colonies.

Yesterday's raid was the first indication that the initial installment of assistance already had arrived.

BATTLESHIP HIT

From a naval point of view, the most important result of yesterday's Davao raid was the three direct hits scored on one of Japan's battleships, for it tended to reduce the temporary advantage the enemy gained by the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

One Japanese battleship already has been sunk off the Philippines, a second was "effectively bombed" and badly damaged, and now a third has been damaged.

At the outset of the war, the best available information credited Japan with 10 capital ships as against 12 for the United States in the Pacific.

Japan's initial Pearl Harbor claims were that two American battleships had been sunk and four others damaged. The Navy acknowledged the sinking of the battleship Arizona, and the capsizing of the old battleship Oklahoma, but Navy Secretary Knox said damage to other ships was so superficial in some cases that the vessels were able to proceed to sea for duty with the fleet.

JAP ADVANTAGE CUT

If Japan's original claims were correct, then the 10-to-6 advantage she held in capital ships on Dec. 7 has been reduced to a 7-to-6 edge, assuming the U. S. Pacific fleet has not since been reinforced with battleships from the Atlantic.

The class of the Japanese warship hit in yesterday's raid was not disclosed. The two previous victims of U. S. bombers in Philippine waters have been ships of the Kongo class, which predate the start of the World War.

Japan apparently has not risked her newer dreadnaughts to support operations against the Philippines.

Egypt Thanks F. D. For Lease-Lend Aid

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 6(Delayed) (AP)—The Egyptian cabinet drafted today a formal message of thanks to President Roosevelt for offering Egypt aid under the lease-lend program—aid which was expected here largely in the form of food and other supplies.

The President's action was interpreted by observers as a reflection of Washington's keen interest in the Middle East, where it is felt that a food shortage affecting civilians might impair the conduct of the war.

Navy Gives Back Kearny Plant

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox announced today the Kearny, N. J. plant of the Federal Shipbuilding & Drydock Co. would be returned to its owners at midnight tonight after 134 days of Navy operation.

Return of the shipyard, which held $493,000,000 in naval and merchant ship contracts when the Navy seized it on Aug. 25 after a CIO strike, was authorized by an executive order signed by President Roosevelt yesterday.

"Any unsettled union issues should be settled by negotiation and agreement," said Knox.

Soft Drink Sales Curbed

ATLANTA, Jan. 6 (AP)—Retailers of carbonated soft drinks were feeling effects today of a rationing program ordered by the Office of Production Management.

Limited by the order to sugar consumption no greater than the same month of 1940, the Coca Cola Companies of Atlanta and Chattanooga, and the Royal Crown Bottling Co. of Columbus, Ga., rationed case deliveries to dealers.

Sam R. Connelly, manager of the Chattanooga concern, estimated sales would be reduced 35 per cent in his trade area.

The sugar conservation order to all soft drink manufacturers, was announced last month by the OPM in Washington.

Hitler Still at Front, German Papers Say

BERLIN, Tuesday, Jan. 6 (Official Broadcast Recorded by AP)—Adolf Hitler has been at his headquarters in eastern Europe since the Russian war started last June 22, "devoting his life entirely to the solution of the gigantic tasks confronting the German nation in connection with the necessities of war," Dr. Otto Dietrich declares in an article in all German papers.

DO WE HAVE TO DIE?

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," reveals the story of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Many report improvement in health. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

The man, a well-known explorer and geographer, tells how he found these strange methods in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long-hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

He maintains that man, instead of being limited by a one-man-power mind, has within him the mind-power of a thousand men or more as well as the energy-power of the universe which can be used in his daily affairs. He states that this sleeping giant of mind-power, when awakened, can make man capable of surprising accomplishments, from the prolonging of youth, to success in many fields. To that eternal question, "Do we have to die?" his answer is astounding.

The author states the time has come for this long-hidden system to be disclosed to the western world, and offers to send his amazing 9,000-word treatise —which reveals many startling results— to sincere readers of this paper, free of cost or obligation. For your free copy, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. 126 L, Los Angeles, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free treatises have been printed.—Adv.

Chinese Launch Big Offensive on Ichang

the Japs with using Lewisite and mustard gas.

The new assault on Ichang was believed to be the opening gun of a fresh general Chinese counter-offensive on several fronts.

On the Changsha front, where the Japs lost more than 50,000 men killed and wounded before they were driven back, severe fighting still was reported raging outside the outer defenses.

TRAP HOLDS JAP ARMY

Chinese advices said four Jap divisions, trapped north of Changsha, were unable to break through the Chinese encirclement.

All Japanese efforts to relieve the 50,000 men trapped in a seven-mile gap between the Liuyang and Laotao rivers north of Changsha failed. Retreat was cut off by destruction of pontoon bridges and a terrific Chinese barrage.

The Japanese seemingly face annihilation. Another Jap army of 30,000 found itself unable to move owing to China's "scorched earth" tactics.

Conditions within Changsha, meanwhile, returned to normal.

The broadening Chinese assault, marked by the new swoop against Ichang, brought a swift change to a more offensive Chinese policy. All quarters, meanwhile, continued their demands for Chinese attacks on Thailand and Jap forces in French Indo-China to relieve Nipponese pressure on Malaya and Singapore.

Such attacks, it was argued, would secure southwestern China against the Japs and "rescue" Chinese nationals abroad from the threat of Jap oppression.

War Scare Sends Parents to Movie Sets With Children

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 6 (AP)—Proud papas and mammas have a real excuse to sit and gloat as their youngsters make movies these days. Because of the possibility of blackouts, Vierling Kersey, Los Angeles superintendent of schools, has decreed that every child actor must be accompanied onto the sets by a parent or guardian.

The order put 30 parents on one set alone.

Even two 16-year-olds, Gene Raymond and Nancy Gates, who prided themselves on being youngsters about town, were not exempt from parental chaperonage.

FALSE ALARM SUSPECT

Police of the Dudley st. station, watching the Edward Everett sq. section after three false fire alarms were sounded in the district within 15 minutes, seized a youth in soldier's uniform as he was in the act of pulling a citizen's alarm today. He claimed to be a Camp Edwards soldier and was held for the military police

Jap Radio Tells Bigger Lies Than Hitler!

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (INS)—We give you now the most monumental whopper since Ananias drew his last breath.

It's the Domei (Japanese) wireless speaking:

"We have this report from Hankow. The Japanese have completely occupied Changsha after four days' street fighting. We have killed 19,000 Chinese and captured 7000."

There once was an alleged man named Adolf. And Adolf wrote a so-called book. And he called it Mein Kampf. And he wrote in this book:

"Don't tell a little lie. People won't believe you. But if you tell a big one, why people just can't believe you could think up a lie that big and so they'll fall for it."

It's a fair conclusion that the Jap commentator read Mein Kampf, because actually the Japs have lost 50,000 men at Changsha and are running like all get out to escape Chiang Kai-Shek, who has waited five long years to give them the beating they're getting.

"Boston After Dark," by George Holland, appears every day in the Boston American.

4 Bombs Stir Paris; U. S. Envoy Scored

VICHY, Jan. 6 (INS)—New bomb explosions in German-occupied Paris today were reported in advices to Vichy. Reports said the incidents—the fourth in 12 hours—occurred in the Latin quarter and in a German book shop.

Meanwhile, it was denied officially 32 students who participated in a demonstration in Paris Saturday had been machine-gunned by German soldiers.

Reports of the latest bomb blasts were received as tension between Vichy and German-occupied France increased after two earlier Paris bomb explosions and the mysterious violent death of Yves Parinaux, chef de cabinet to Interior Minister Pucheu.

At Paris the Nazi-controlled newspaper, Nouveaux Temps, carried on its front page a strong attack against the Vichy government by Jean Luchaire.

The article repeated the arguments of Marcel Deat, who warned the Vichy regime in a radio broadcast of the dangers involved in "stalling" with regard to Franco-German collaboration.

Luchaire also strongly attacked United States Ambassador William D. Leahy, terming him the "principal obstacle" in the path of collaboration between France and Germany.

The article described Leahy as the "democratic spirit behind the government" and compared him to former American Ambassador William Bullitt during the regime of former French Premier Edouard Daladier.

Punctuating these developments was an ominous warning to the government of Chief of State Petain to cease its "waiting policy" which has been delaying full French collaboration with Germany.

Japs Warn Reds On Aid to U. S.

TOKYO, Jan. 6 (By Official Japanese Wireless) (INS)—A veiled warning to Russia to refrain from co-operation with the United States and Britain to a degree that Japan might deem detrimental to her interests was sounded today by the official government press spokesman, Tomakazu Hori.

Recalling that Soviet-Japanese relations currently are based on the neutrality treaty between the two powers, Hori added:

"Relations between Japan and the Soviet Union, however, would change perceptibly, should the Soviet Union display any intention to co-operate with the democracies and participate in the line-up of the democracies against the signatories of the anti-Comintern pact."

hasn't changed in noise, confusion, or effect of combat. The old AEF remembers.

LIVES ARE CHEAP

At the pincer points, north and south, the Japs are concentrating their artillery fire in a fitful, rose glow of constant flashes. Wave on wave of squat, pot-helmeted bronze men keep coming on, falling like rows of ripe wheat before a scythe.

Sweating U. S. machine gunners press the stuttering throttles of their guns and feel the rhythmic jerk. Little licks of blue flame come from the shielded muzzles. A steady stream of empty shells spill from the ejectors.

Here and there, behind the parapets or in the clear, a defender slumps with a tired sigh, sprawling awkwardly like a child's doll that has lost its sawdust filling. A comrade pulls him to safety. No sense of time or fear come to these men behind the guns.

Concentration acts as an opiate to fear, and in these awful emergencies the winged, whispering death, the hornet hums and the sounds like snapping fiddle strings reach the inner consciousness as mere abstractions. Their meaning comes later, with the first respite, when compressed and stupified feeling returns achingly acute. Men, all men, however hardened, are afraid then. There is time to think.

The Japanese, with their pagan philosophy, are spendthrift with men and ammunition, like fiends on an urgent mission to keep appointment elsewhere in hell. The time schedule allotted by the heathen high command has stalled. The easy, anticipated mop-up of this "pocket" has failed to come off. In their oriental indignation at such unaccountable stubbornness the squat sadists cannot understand why men of "civilized softness," who are condemned to death should still cling so defiantly to life.

NEW HEROES MADE

Now, daily, the Nippon troops fling themselves blindly against the smoking pits and built-up bombing posts of the American forces while our advance positions, sorely pressed, fire rocket signals for more artillery support, receiving answers of concentrated fire which whines overhead like the amplified sound of a boy whistling through his teeth. They end in great crashes of sound as geysers of earth and fragmentary, solid objects float upward with lazy buoyancy and settle back in a sifted shower.

Acts of selfless heroism, many hundreds of them which have found no room for mention in the stiff, curt communiques to Washington, are without doubt being enacted hourly; again the macabre pattern of manhood as it fought for principle through the last war. Today's sons of yesterday's fathers, both bred in world adversity, both victims of a chimera. Youth, too, doesn't change.

Behind the American lines, from camouflaged dumps and stores which are hidden in the tumbled jungles, come columns of supplies, ammunition and food, footweary files which struggle up the rough hillsides like African bundle bearers on safari. The smartness of peacetime soldiery is gone. They are ragged and unkempt.

Field kitchen cooks and K. P.'s, concealing their open-fires beneath dense foliage, stir kettles of stew while ration details wait. Stretcher-bearers, swinging litter loads over the hummocky ground, bring in prone, silent, stained darkly figures, lining them in orderly rows beside dressing stations where surgeons work amid a humid stench that is sickeningly sweet with antiseptics. They are hard-pressed, sweating men with haggard eyes.

SLEEP AMID DIN

It is, everywhere, like an upturned ant-heap with each ant trying to rescue its own eggs in a persistent orderly way, directed by some controlling and communal intelligence. Only, instead of eggs and sticks these soldier-ants of ours, in the whole world behind their lines, are salvaging heavy guns, motor trucks, hospital and ordnance stores while the walking wounded hobble back in an uproar of traffic.

Overhead, impudent Jap bombers fly at low levels seeking something to destroy and locating artillery pits by their guns' flashes. Exhausted men, briefly relieved from the front lines are sleeping there—an etherized, impervious slumber which blacks out even the turmoil and heavy-ground shocks. I have seen night-bombed children and mothers sleep thus in the subway shelters of London while hob-nailed army boots tramped inches away from their ears.

Sleep, a cousin to death, lies heavily upon these like a sable blanket. A merciful vacuity clouds their senses.

Now, for the nonce, the shattered, torn ranks of the Japanese enemy retire to lower glens to lick their wounds and summon strength for the next assault. A gradual diminishing lull, like the lowering wind of a hurricane, falls over the attack sectors and tired Americans, brown and white, bring order from their chaos. A fierce, ear aching quiet succeeds the din, broken only by the sleepy stutter of occasional machine-guns or the inquisitive frying sound of a Very flare as it lights the night in a sputtering, bilious arc.

So, once more the outpost of American freedom hangs grimly on while the nation arms. The thin red line, growing thinner and redder, stands steady, its concerted pulse beat crying "How long? How long?"

Shall we at home do less than they?

LISTERINE, QUICK!

This wonderful antiseptic kills millions of germs on throat surfaces . . . the very types that many authorities say are responsible for the cold misery you know all too well. At the same time it often relieves irritation of sore throats due to colds. Remember, in tests made over a ten-year period, regular twice-a-day users of Listerine Antiseptic had fewer colds, milder colds and colds of shorter duration than non-users. So, at the first sign of trouble, use Listerine Antiseptic and consult your doctor.

PLAN E VICTORY SEEN IN COUNCIL ELECTION

Victorious outcome of the Cambridge Plan E committee's efforts was seen today with the election of John H. Corcoran, department store owner, as mayor and Col. John B. Atkinson, prominent shoe man, as Cambridge city manager.

Although the committee for Plan E failed in last fall's elections to elect a majority of the city council, Corcoran had won election to the council with the committee's indorsement.

Col. John B. Atkinson

Col. Atkinson likewise was understood to have the committee's approval as city manager, rating a salary up to to $20,000 a year.

VOTE SELVES RAISE

By a rollcall vote of 7 to 2, the council voted salaries of $4000 each to their members, as compared to $500 paid city councilors in the past, and adjourned after referring the matter of salaries of the mayor and city manager to the committee on finance.

The second of the Plan E candidates to be elected to the new council, Mayor Corcoran was the third member of his family to be a Cambridge councilor. He was elected mayor on the third ballot and will preside over the council.

Owner of a department store bearing his name in Central sq., Cambridge, he is married and lives in a penthouse on top of Hotel Continental. He is a Harvard graduate and a veteran of the first World War.

NOT IN POLITICS

Col. Atkinson, also a veteran of the first World War, lives in Fresh Pond parkway and for some years with his father represented the Bata Shoe Co., of Czechoslovakia in this country. When Hitler overran that country and took over the Bata plant, Col. Atkinson was among the visiting businessmen who had difficulty in getting away. He has never taken part in politics.

Before adjourning the council voted to meet Monday afternoons instead of in the evening.

The councilors, sworn in by City Clerk Frederick H. Burke in the council chamber at City Hall before several hundred spectators, were John H. Corcoran, John D. Lynch, Edward A. Crane, Hyman Pill, William M. Hogan, Francis L. Sennott, Thomas M. McNamara, Marcus Morton, Jr., and Michael A. Sullivan.

Schoolma'ams To Aid Draft Registration

School teachers and thousands of other women volunteers today were enlisted for the big job of registering between 300,000 and 350,000 Massachusetts men on the next draft day, February 16.

Lt.-Col. Ralph M. Smith, assistant director of selective service in this state, revealed that the same procedure will be followed and in most cases the same registering places will be used as in the previous two registration periods, when 525,000 men were signed up.

Lieut.-Col Ralph M. Smith

No draft board in the state has sufficient personnel to even begin to handle the big turnout which will come February 16 in answer to President Roosevelt's proclamation that all men between the ages of 20 and 44 must register.

Housewives and all others who can find time are urged to report to their local draft boards to aid in the work. School teachers are expected to take over after the closing of school, although there still was the possibility that schools may be closed on that day to permit all day use of teachers. Registration places are to be open from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m.

At the same time, draft officials announced that men eligible to register have the right to choose what draft board they wish to register with. This action is the result of the defense work which has drawn many workers from their real homes to defense industry [illegible]

Mt. Holyoke Group Studies Defense

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT
National Woman Director of Civilian Defense

WASHINGTON, MONDAY—Yesterday morning, two children, who were staying in the house, decided they would like to go to see the unknown soldier's tomb, so we took them there and to Rock Creek cemetery to see St.-Gaudens' memorial. To me, that memorial is one of the most beautiful things in Washington, in snow or sunshine.

I said my prayers of thankfulness and of hope, with my eyes fixed on that strangely enigmatic woman's face. She lived a full life, I am sure, but I am never quite certain whether she just became resigned, or whether life gave her a complete and peaceful contentment.

Back for luncheon, after which some of our guests left, so that I spent a fairly quiet two hours in my sitting room before Mrs. Aymar Johnson came in with some English children who are staying with her. Later, about fifteen political science students from Mt. Holyoke, with their teacher, Miss Victoria Schuck, came to see me.

They asked a number of questions and I arranged for them to go to the office of civilian defense to find out all they could about our work. Miss Jane Seaver, of our youth activities division, came to us from Mt. Holyoke, so I am sure they found a friend and made use of the Washington Bureau of the International Student Service also.

Last evening, in addition to my own broadcast, I presided at the Washington Forum of the Air, and enjoyed the audience as well as the galaxy of speakers. I thought it very remarkable that each one was able to make such a valuable contribution on the subject of unity in such short speeches.

I reached the office of civilian defense this morning at 9 o'clock and was in the middle of a staff meeting when the White House telephone rang. I found myself talking to Franklin, Jr., back from the seas. He was in hopes of getting leave but was not very sure. Since then he has told me that he cannot leave this time, which will be a blow to Ethel, who is very anxious to show him the baby.

I was so glad to hear his voice for he has been gone two months, a long time not to know the whereabouts of the young people you care about. He was fairly bubbling over because he found that he had been promoted, so he has taken his first step up the ladder.

A very busy day and three of us ate lunch together at my desk. I barely managed to reach home in time to get this column off.

TODAY WE HAVE exclusive advance information of a forthcoming wedding of great interest to Boston's most distinguished inner social circles . . . Two weeks from today, Elizabeth Moorfield Sturgis of New York, who is related to many of our most prominent social families, will be married to Sgt. T. Suffern Tailer, also of Gotham, who is on active duty at the Officers' Training School, Camp Lee, Va. . . .

The bride-to-be, daughter of Mrs. Lovett Sturgis and Mr. Henry Sturgis, is a granddaughter of Mrs. Robert Lovett of Boston who is widely known as a leader in the Hub's civic and philanthropic activities . . . Mrs. Lovett has the rare distinction of being one of the few American women decorated as a chevalier of the Legion of Honor by the French government in recognition of her services during the last war as chairman of the New England division of the American committee for devastated France . . . The late Dr. Lovett was internationally famous as a specialist in orthopedic surgery . . .

Like many wartime weddings the Sturgis-Tailer marriage ceremony will be a quiet family affair, followed by a reception at Gotham's swanky Colony Club of which the bride is a member . . . Boston relatives planning to attend the nuptials include Mrs. Lovett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moorfield Storey, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund J. Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore L. Storer of Cambridge, the William L. Storeys, the Richard Storeys and John C. Storey . . .

The future bride was a debutante in both Boston and New York during the winter of 1935-36 following her graduation from the Shipley School . . . Sgt. Tailer is the son of Mrs. C. Ledyard Blair and the late T. Suffern Tailer . . . He attended Princeton where he was a member of the Ivy Club and he also belongs to such exclusive clubs as the Racquet and Tennis, Brook, Boca Raton and Augusta National . . .

THE SNOW STORM came just in time for debutante Evelyn Gould of Chestnut st., who was guest of honor at a gay winter sports party given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Rich of Hingham . . . The Riches live in a convenient spot for coasting and skiing, with a big snow covered meadow and hill right behind their house . . . and their living room has a huge open fire place which provided a cozy place for warming up between snowball battles and ski races . . .

A sumptuous buffet of roast turkey, ham and hot casseroles was set for the sportsters to help themselves at any time during the afternoon and a dessert and hot punch were served during the early evening . . . Evelyn, who has just returned from a whirl of partying in New York, wore a colorful skiing outfit of Sandringham blue pants, rose sweater, white parka with a border of beaver and white ski boots . . .

A DUO of Beaver Country Day graduates chatting at a meeting of their alumnae association. Mrs. Alexander Stohn, Jr., (Mary Casey) and Mrs. Robert Wesselhoeft, Jr., the former Nancy Stevens of Westwood, who is on from her home in California to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Stevens.

War Fund Work Off To Enthusiastic Start

IF THE LOYALTY, courage and enthusiasm of the workers is any criterion, Boston's 1942 United War Fund will certainly go over the top with flying colors . . . Yesterday the Ladies' Division of the drive launched its two weeks' intensive educational period at a Dutch Treat luncheon at the Copley-Plaza . . . and everyone present was fairly bristling with excitement to get down to serious business so that the public will know all about the coming drive and how the funds will be allocated.

The United War Fund, as everyone should know by now, is a combined drive for the Community Fund, Red Cross, Soldiers' and Sailors' Committee and USO . . . morale building agencies, which benefit civilians, soldiers and sailors . . . and this year, more than ever, the loyal support of every good American is being counted upon to help raise the $7,600,000.

Among the many attending yesterday's luncheon, at which Mrs. Mary Breckenridge, director of the Frontier Nursing Service, was the principal speaker, were Mrs. John L. Grandin, Jr., Mrs. Albert Bradley Carter, Miss Frances Stebbins, who wore a modish gray wool dress with a red and gold jewelled ornament, and a bright red pancake beret; Mrs. Constantine Hutchins, Mrs. Arthur W. Rice, Jr., Mrs. Oliver Andrews, Mrs. Philip Eiseman, Mrs. John P. Hubbard, Mrs. Harold Coolidge, Mrs. John P. Goodrich, Miss Marguerite Stoddard, executive secretary of the educational division; Mrs. Moses F. Carr, Mrs. Monica Owen, Mrs. Oscar Hausserman and others.

A number of society's theater fans had fun last evening trying to guess the murderer in "Mr. and Mrs. North," a hilarious mystery drama which opened at the Plymouth Theater . . . the William Tudor Gardiners, with their son and post deb daughter, Margaret, had seats near the front and had a lot of fun betting with each other as to the identity of the villain.

We looked in vain for Helen Hall of Auburndale, sister of Lois Hall, the piquant little heroine of the show, but we did see Mrs. Alexander Whiteside sharing two-on-the-aisle with Polly Binney; Mr. and Mrs. J. Weston Adams, Paul Killiam and a number of other theater fans . . . Polly Binney, who does a lot of charity work at various local institutions, wore a burgundy brocade dress with antique gold jewelry and a pleated burgundy faille beret.

'IT'S THE LAW'

By Elsie Robinson

DID the Naughty Horse take a chaw o' your ear . . . or a nip on your starb'rd ankle? Then you'll just have to grin and bear it, neighbor. For, provided you live in Los Angeles, said equine is entitled to one good bite . . . and an indignant citizen who demanded restitution for a bitten hand recently got exactly nothing but the Hoss Laugh.

S'pose you get up one of these nippy mornings with a yen for a breakfast steak? So what? So if you belong to aforesaid City of Angels you'll change it to flapjacks quick. Or find yourself gnawing the jail bars. For the L. A. City Fathers long since decreed that Meat for Eats is O-U-T before 11 a. m. Do they really mean it? I dunno. Try ordering one and see.

Try taking a bath in Virginia, where the Law declares it's criminal to have a bathtub in the house. Do your personal laundering in the back yard—or else!

Or p'raps you're a barber. Then restrain your yen for onions. At least in Waterloo, Neb., where it's illegal to eat 'em between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m.

PORTLAND, Me. There's another city that aims to take the joy out of life. Law makers couldn't find anything else to crab about so they've made it unlawful to tickle your girl under the chin with a feather duster!

Have I gone suddenly and completely crazy! I have not. I'm just introducing you to your United States and a few of its lawful rules 'n' ordinances. In the sincere hope that you'll loosen up and have a laugh! If there's one thing this America needs right now, it's' a good, old-fashioned, hip-slapping haw-haw. The kind that'll keep Dad chuckling even after he's had a look at the Christmas bills!

Can't be done? Yes it can. Get this depth bomb which Dick Hyman and O. Soglow have just loosed on a Sourpuss Public. A pocket-sized laugh riot entitled, "IT'S THE LAW,"* And if you aren't wearing an eight-inch grin within five seconds, you've lockjaw.

THINK of living in Oklahoma, with a yen for deep-sea fishing. And finding that it's illegal to "catch a whale in any of the inland waters of the state!" (Wait until you see what Soglow's pen did with that idea!)

Or loitering in Berea, O., only to discover that it's a felony, or somethin', for any animal to appear on the streets after dark without prominently displaying a red tail light. But a hint's a hint.

And . . . Or . . . But why should I do your snickering for you? Go out and grab it yourself. For here, s'elp me is the most hilarious expose you'll ever see. Expose of what? Expose of Us, Ourselves, in our legislative moments! Yet we laugh at the English and giggle at the Rooshuns!

OUR DAILY CITATION: To the dauntless men of the American and Filipino army who are holding strategic Corregidor and making the big rocks that command Manila Bay look really big to the back-stabbing Japanese.

HIS BROTHER'S KEEPER

IN THE MIDST of a world torn by war and hate, in a world of sudden treacheries, of the cynical repudiation of solemn agreements and of general suspicion two countries agree to abolish the tariff walls between them and clasp one another's hand for mutual help and defense.

Those two countries whose action shines like a beacon-light in an ever-darkening world are the United States and Canada.

The two sister Republics (for Canada IS a Republic) have just completed a pact—a pact that pledges an alliance of resources and production that in no way impinges on the integral sovereignty and independence of either country.

The Joint War Production Committee of Canada and the United States has recommended to the President and the Prime Minister of Canada:

A joint maximum war production—a unified use of labor and raw materials—a common war program—suspension of all tariff barriers that impede the free flow of necessary war supplies.

These objectives will be immediately implemented.

This is a PRACTICAL league of nations, a league without compulsions, sanctions or political finagling.

It should direct the attention of the world anew to the 100-year friendship between Canada and the United States.

There is here a frontier of thousands of miles in which not a defensive fort exists or a soldier stands on guard to watch either country.

All our disputes have been settled amicably by ARBITRATION.

There is a free and constant flow of the two peoples between the two nations.

The Canadian-United States boundary line has faded into almost an imaginary line.

Now today Canadians and United Staters (both are AMERICANS) are united as one country and people against a common enemy—an enemy that would annihilate the free institutions of both.

On The Side

A woman dares all things
When she loves or hates.
—JEROME.

WOMEN usually reserve their best hating for other women. Walter Savage Landor quite truly observed: "There is no hatred so intense as that of a woman for a woman" . . . The pup has gone in for clowning in a large way. It is probably that vitamin candy he has been eating, but then it might be he wants to do his part in keeping up the family morale at this time. It could be the latter as he seems to be trying to teach himself tricks that will make people laugh. A very unusual animal.

SPORTS PAGE HEADLINE: "Hockey Will Survive War, Says Dutton." Boy, was I worried about that! How about badminton? . . . "In naming hit plays that had 'Mrs.' in the title you forgot 'The Last of Mrs. Cheyney' and 'The Famous Mrs. Fair,'" writes a San Franciscan . . . According to a very fancy statistic, Chicagoans eat 75,000 hamburgers a day. I have always thought if I wanted to start a business with about $500 capital I would open a hamburger emporium. Maybe I will open one in Chicago some time. So don't be surprised if you see a place on Madison st., that city, with a sign: "Ed Durling's Certified Hamburgers." Or do you think "Ed Durling's Hamburgers You Can Trust" would be better?

PASSING BY: Tully Marshall stage veteran. If you remember Tully in "Paid in Full" and "The City," you can call yourself a young old-timer . . . Gary Cooper. The co-eds' favorite actor. Said to be the first man in Beverly Hills, Cal., to dare use a knife while eating hearts of lettuce salad at a dinner party. Mr. Cooper is at present being mentioned as a candidate for the presidency of the American League of Long-Legged Men. "If I am elected," he said recently, "I will launch without delay a campaign to make the distance between seats in buses and street cars greater so long-legged passengers can ride in comfort. I will also campaign vigorously for longer sheets on hotel beds and higher roofs on taxicabs."

SIDELIGHTS: Next to the first year the sixth year of married life is said to be the most difficult in which to prevent love from flying out the window. This is especially true of childless couples . . . Noted a news item concerning a worker at a fountain lunch in which the reporter and the copy desk seemed unable to agree as to the proper designation for the man. Wrote the reporter: "The fountaineer must be tried." But the copy desk wrote a headline: "Soda Jerker to Be Tried" . . . In Britain the prettiest girls enlist in the Air Force. Is said the Air Force uniform is what attracts them. Seems some smart man in charge of Air Force recruiting ordered that a hat unusually becoming to the female face be made part of the Air Force uniform. As soon as a picture of this hat was published in the newspapers the Air Force was flooded with females eager to enlist.

PLEASE NOTE: The number of islands in the Philippine Islands is 7083 . . . George M. Cohan never made a cent from his song "Over There." He gave the rights to an old pal named Billy Jerome, who sold them to a music firm for $25,000. How much this music firm had made from "Over There" nobody knows; possibly $100,000 . . . "The Congressmen were thrilled by Churchill's speech," said one dispatch. "Thrilled" is a word so much used by females it has become practically feminine. The ladies are always saying: "Wasn't it thrilling!" "Weren't you thrilled?" "It was too, too thrilling," etc. It might therefore have been better to say: "The Congressmen were impressed by Churchill's speech." All right, if you want to argue the point go ahead. But my mind is made up.

GARY COOPER MAKES IMPORTANT DECISION
Will Seek Fair Deal for Long-Legged Men

ASIDES: Too many people have a seesaw attitude as to the war news. They are high in spirits at good news and low at bad. That's a good way to build yourself up to nervous breakdown . . . Californian says he drove from Los Angeles to Sioux City, Iowa, a distance of 1693 miles, in 31 hours. That's fairly fast but not unusual. West of Kansas City it is easy to average 50 miles an hour on an auto trip. But if you can average better than 40 miles an hour from New York to Kansas City, you are a much better driver than I am. The cities you have to go through and the narrow highways slow you down.

ADDED DETAILS: How do you like your Christmas presents? Any you would like to exchange? Nobody seems to have formed a Christmas presents exchange, yet I still think it's a good idea. A wedding presents exchange would also probably be welcomed by many brides . . . Some of the feminine film stars are greatly depressed because of the taxes they will have to pay on their fancy salaries in 1942. It is a trifle sad. But some of the cinema cuties might take the philosophical view that if they were young men they might have to join the Army for $21 a month pay check . . . Examination of the classified ads seems to indicate some very good cash prices are being paid for used cars. I have had my present car about six months and can get nearly as much as I paid for it.

SAYS SHE: "Children and dogs are wonderful if properly raised by intelligent people," writes a Pittsburgher. "But why don't dog owners keep their animals confined to their own premises and restrained by a leash when away? And why don't the all too many stupid, selfish, cigarette smoking and cocktail swilling mothers wake up to their duties to their children and keep their brats off the streets and away from auto traffic and teach them some manners."

PAULETTE CARRIES GOLD MONKEY

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, Jan. 6—Manhattan Ghtter: Paulette Goddard in a scarlet gown, with a gold monkey perched on her shoulder . . . Monte Woolley ploughing through the merrymakers at El Storko . . . Deems Taylor, the composer, and Gypsy Rose Lee, the disrober, sharing a supper plate at the J. P. McEvoys party . . . Gladys Swarthout cocktailing at the Encore, the new boite presided over by Dick Leibert, the lad who plays the organ at the Music Hall . . . Doris Duke Cromwell, who looks like a Vassar girl on vacation, dancing at the Cotillion Room . . . Dick Barthelmess meeting his pretty daughter, Mary Hay, at LaHiff's Tavern . . Edna Ferber rubbing elbows with Chinese Ambassador Hu Shih, at the Pierre . . . Manhattan still trying to shake the confetti out of its side streets.

Saturday Dreams: A stranger at the Stork Club made a big to-do of the fact that Sherman Billingsley brought in 1942 one minute and 29 seconds too soon. The painfully exact gentleman had a $6000 watch to prove it—a type of timepiece owned by only a handful of people in the world . . . Tito Guizar, the Mexican singer of love ballads, is crooning "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" at the Wedgwood Room these evenings. This may seem strange to you, but he does it because his Cuban wife insists on it.

Times Square Cuff Notes: Don't take my word for this, but it is true that the Ruban Bleu is now featuring a balloon blower-upper. He blows up balloons into odd shapes and gives them to the customers. I don't know much about his home life, but I'll bet a padded cell is involved . . . Tony De Marco and his new partner, Sally Craven, were in the audience at the Versailles a few nights ago when Jane Pickens did her imitation of Renee De Marco. They applauded loudly . . . Leon and Eddie's started painting a new sign on their roof the other day and a gentleman kibitzing from the 64th floor of Radio City telephoned in a correction "It's none of my business," said the gentleman in the skyscraper, "but the sign painter is putting an apostrophe in the wrong place." Leon and Eddie rushed to the roof, discovered the kibitzer was right, and made the correction. The sign now reads:

"Slap the Japs Off the Map
You Keep 'Em Flying
We'll Keep 'Em Laughing"

Adieu to a Starling: When "Panama Hattie" hits the road this week-end, Betty Allen, who goes with it, stands on the brink of a new career. Frequently mentioned in this space, Miss Allen rates as one of the most colorful of Broadway's little people. She will be remembered for her screwballish art exhibits in hamburger Palace and a Swing Street club, among other things, but she is smarter than that sounds, and she will be seen in the movies before 1942 lets out. For Buddy DeSylva, who signed her to understudy Ethel Merman in "DuBarry Was a Lady" and "Hattie," has promised to give Betty a crack at Hollywood. And so, as one who has described her exploits most completely, perhaps, I'd like to say goodbye and good luck to her. She's been peeking out at success from behind Miss Merman long enough!

Fable from the Fifties: John Bright, a student of the public enemy and one of the authors of the hard-boiled melodrama, "Brooklyn, U. S. A.," was lugging the script of that play around with him some weeks ago, and in going from boite to bistro he left it in a check-room in a nitery on 52nd st.

Now this nitery, like so many in our town, is run by a gent who was prominent in what used to be referred to as "the mob" in prohibition days, and when author Bright returned to the checkroom next day to claim his playscript, the girl in charge said, "The boss is reading it."

Bright approached the "boss," who was a soft-spoken, well-dressed type and who was riffling through the manuscript. "You wrote dis?" he said.

The author nodded palely.

"Not bad," said the night club owner. "Sit down and have a drink."

Bright noticed that the critical gin-mill proprietor was wearing a black tie, and because it was the day Public Enemy Lepke had been sentenced, he said to be flippant:

"Wearing the black tie for Lepke?"

The night club owner did not smile.

"Yeah," he said, "in case the rat don't fry."

BOSTON after DARK

By GEORGE HOLLAND

THOSE EARNEST TROUPERS who make up the cast of "Adrift in New York" were the only ones who weren't surprised at the startling amount of Monday night patronage which turned up at the Rio Casino last night . . . Present were the attractive kids whose jobs as chorines at the Casino ended summarily with the coming of "Adrift in New York" . . . They comported themselves like good sports, however, and joined in the cheering and booing—a bit more fervently in the latter perhaps . . . Full salaries are being paid the former chorus girls this week, and this mitigates somewhat against the unpleasantness of losing steady jobs in mid-winter.

THE GRIPE AGAINST THE INVADING members of the cast of "Adrift in New York" is strictly a localized one, but the Boston chapter of the Red Cross should be told as publicly as possible of the general blast of ill-will being directed against it by the full membership of the United Chorus Girls of Boston . . . It seems, according to the girls, that the snub direct was handed a group of patriotic members (from the Hotel Essex show) by certain bigwigs of the Red Cross . . . The girls had volunteered their services in the emergency.

WHEN THEY answered the routine question about their occupation, the girls say the atmosphere became icily frigid when they gave truthful answers . . . The word spread all over town quickly, and the chorus girl population exceeds 500 . . . The lassies had their hammers working overtime last night . . . Surely the Red Cross would wish to straighten out the situation . . . The incident probably was caused by an understrapper unacquainted with the real Red Cross spirit.

BANDLEADER MEYER DAVIS acknowledges authorship of the story about a poor mosquito who bit John Barrymore and ziz-zagged around for days before he could find his way home . . . Another maestro, Freddie Martin, says that one of the musicians in his orchestra goes straight home to his wife each night "like the crow flies" i. e.: stopping frequently for a little corn.

MAESTRO MARTIN HAS BECOME the newest sky-rocket in the music firmament by reason of his great recording of the Tschaikowsky Concerto translation known as "Tonight We Love" . . . His name was one of several mentioned by Ed Wyner, operator of the Ritz-Carlton, as a possibility for the Roof next summer . . . One of Mr. Wyner's infrequent appearances along the Boston Rialto found him attending the opening of the Rio Casino's new show and visiting the Latin Quarter later . . . Such an appearance is always welcome to denizens of the nightclubs because a sight of Mr. Wyner is a reminder that if winter comes, summer can't be too far behind.

THE BOSS OF THE Ritz already is concerning himself with the entertainment bill-of-fare for next summer . . . The four bands he is most desirous of obtaining at this writing are those of Fred Martin, Henry Busse, Benny Goodman and Dick Jergens . . . Adelaide Moffet will be welcome at the Roof again, as always, and the charming young Boston post-deb, Eleanor (Sister) Frothingham needs only to live up to this column's rave the night Mr. Wyner chooses to drop in at the Balinese Room . . . We think Miss Frothingham is sure of a Ritz booking, if she's at liberty this summer.

ELEANOR "SISTER" FROTHINGHAM
Ritz Roof Booking Forecast

IF COL. AL SOMERBY is willing to detour the comedian Mike Sachs into a Boston nightclub for a two weeks' engagement before playing the Old Howard or the Globe Theater again, there is a possible splendid chance awaiting Michael . . . A certain connoisseur of entertainment who prefers to be anonymous for the time, was so certain that Comedian Sachs would do profitable business that he offered to underwrite Mike's booking at the Cocoanut Grove, the Mayfair, the Latin Quarter or the Rio Casino . . . This gentleman (who can afford it) is willing to guarantee the club its normal gross receipts, and to share fifty-fifty on the overage, if any . . . With Abbott and Costello, Red Skelton and Red Marshall among the recent burlesque graduates, the veteran Sachs should be unminted gold.

BLANCHE YURKA TO HELP SELL BONDS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 6 — A spectacular scoop is the signing of Herman Schumlin by Jack Warner to direct "Watch on the Rhine." Schumlin will not only lend his talents to the hit play he produced on Broadway but to other important Warner properties. In case you don't know about Schumlin, he has produced such hits as "Grand Hotel," "The Children's Hour" (made by Sam Goldwyn as "These Three"), "The Corn is Green," etc. He has worked closely with Lillian Hellman, author of most of the plays he has brought to the stage. "Watch on the Rhine" is a thrilling story of a German refugee. Paul Lukas, Mady Christians and Lucile Watson are all so good I should like to see them brought here for the roles they created on the stage.

BING CROSBY and Bob Hope, who work together like Mike and Ike, with never a temperamental moment, will hit the co-starring trail again in "True to Life," just bought by Buddy De Sylva. The two pictures Bob and Bing made together, "Road to Singapore" and "Road to Zanzibar" cleaned up—but this is the first movie they've made with a radio background. The comedy centers around an ether actor who stars in one of those family serials on the air. In order to get "True to Life" material he moves in with a zany family who are all just one leap ahead of a padded cell. Bob plays the wisecracking radio star and Bing plays the brother in the family who thinks he can sing like Bing Crosby.

EDMUND LOWE, who hasn't played a heavy in years and years, goes bad boy again as the master brain in a spy ring in "My Favorite Spy," the Harold Lloyd-Kay Kyser picture. Good or bad—Eddie's always interesting on the screen—and you can take the word of the 100 odd guests who turned up at his home for a cocktail party Sunday, he's an equally fine host. Seemed like old times being entertained in the Lowe menage again. When he and Lilyan Tashman were married they gave such wonderful parties.

A LINE OR TWO: The town of Benchley, Texas, sent Bob Benchley a live turkey for Christmas. Now he's going to return the favor and pay them a visit—as he says, "A Turkey for a Turkey." At any rate his grandpop founded the town years ago and when Bob's there—the population is 67 . . . I like Fred Astaire a lot and I think he is a swell actor—but goodness me, I can't see him in the Danny Kaye role in "Lady in the Dark."

SNAPSHOTS of Hollywood Collected at Random: The New Year's most exciting twosome is Carole Landis and Greg Bautzer, popular attorney. Dorothy Lamour, who was formerly Greg's heart, definitely said adieu to him before she left for the East; rumor is current that Ruth Hussey and her childhood sweetheart, Lincoln Fogarty, will soon consult a minister; Blanche Yurka is taking out a troupe of youngsters, all under sixteen, to put in plays and sell defense bonds; Edgar Bergen, who can never make up his mind about girl friends, has decided again in favor of Joan Valerie. Maybe some day one of them will do a little deciding about him; Arline Judge and Dick Foran have really discovered each other; Charles Boyer has his second citizenship papers now; Frankie Thomas and Rita Quigley, who only yesterday were in the infant class, stepping out together at the Band Box.

Beauty

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL- crepe and velvet relaxation c relaxes pretty decoratively place. 'BALSAM FRESHENER' AIDS TO FIRM THROAT LINE

BECAUSE a "balsam freshener," which was specially created to modify the secretions of the oil glands and help contract the enlarged pores that inevitably go with an oily skin, showed a literal genius for firming tissues as it went along, out of it was developed one of the nicest, most effective and almost implausibly cheap home treatments for rejuvenating a relaxed throat line!

If you combine an open-pore, over-oily condition with a throat line that isn't exactly the most youthful thing about you . . . then you'll certainly make every drop of this unique "balsam freshener" liquid count twice!

If . . . on the other hand . . . your complexion is dry . . . but your throat tissues are loose-looking and creped . . . then you'll use the fragrant, piney freshener strictly as a throat-rejuvenating project . . . with the aid of an Ace bandage and a few chunks of cotton.

With these two, you can make the niftiest and most efficient possible chin straps.

All you have to sacrifice is one of your phone sessions (defense plans have also cut into phone visits) with the girl who went to college with you, and is raising her own family not two towns away, but you're both SO busy that you always say you'd probably see MORE of each other if she lived in Chicago!

Anyhow, what we're getting at is that you're not going to be able to TALK much when this home-grown throat strap is doing its best for you, because it must be tied on the top of your head, tooth-ache style. All right, go buy yourself a real one for about a dollar if you want to . . . but we tell you this'll do just as well.

Saturate pads of cotton in the dewy balsam freshener, tie on your bandage . . . and work on that hooked rug for an hour, or practice those "school of velocity" piano exercises over which your fingers are so unwilling, or bake a cake. THAT'S beauty efficiency, for you . . . combining relaxation or work with this muscle and tissue firming treatment.

For checking oiliness and refining pores, this balsam freshener is used after every cream or liquid-cream cleansing.

NEWS FOR MODERN WOMEN

IT'S THE OLD-FASHIONED kind with a modern flare! We're talking about California Fresh Date Bars. Remember the days when you used to "snitch" them from Grandmother's kitchen when she was making huge batches of goodies? They call to mind the grand savory odors which always surrounded those big roomy kitchens.

Everything is the same about these Fresh Date Bars except the dates. In grandmother's day it was necessary to import dates. They were luxury items, which sometimes required weeks of waiting until an order was filled. But times have changed and today we ve fresh dates, grown right here ome—no delay, no luxury item, ays available.

ate gardens in southeastern fornia are bustling with activ- during harvest when dates are ed by hand, carefully brushed, ed and packaged. Handled ac- ing to American standards of tation, American dates are n dates. They require no essing and therefore are mar- d in the fresh state.

ne amber, golden-colored fruit, with flavor, is a delicious in- dient in these good-tasting date and other recipes. Better e a good supply on hand—they ppear quickly.

FRESH DATE BARS

cup brown sugar, packed
1 cup chopped nut meats
1 cup flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1½ tsp. cinnamon,
Few grains salt

Remove pits from dates and cut into small pieces. Beat egg yolks until thick, add sugar, while beating constantly. Beat egg whites stiff. Sift flour with baking powder, salt and spice, and add dates and nuts. Add beaten egg whites and flour mixture alternately to yolks. Spread on buttered pan (about 7¾ x 11¾ x 1½ inches). Bake about 30 minutes in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) Cut into finger-shaped pieces while warm. This gives about 21 pieces approximately 3 inches long, one inch wide and 1½ inches deep. If thinner strips are desired, use larger pan and bake about 20 minutes.

DATE TORTE PUDDING

¼ cup flour
½ tsp. baking powder
⅛ tsp. salt
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
½ tsp. vanilla
1½ cups chopped dates
1½ cups broken walnut meats

Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Beat sugar into eggs; add vanilla and stir in date and nut mixture; then add flour mixture. Turn into greased shallow glass baking pan; bake in slow oven (325 deg. F.) for 50 to 60 minutes, or until mixture springs back when pressed with finger. Serve cold in same dish, topped with whipped cream; or serve in squares on individual plates and top with cream. Dry bread crumbs may be substituted for flour in equal amount. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

DATE BARS made with fresh California dates.

DATE MUFFINS

2 cups flour
½ tsp. salt
3 tsp. baking powder
2 tsp. sugar
1 cup milk
1 beaten egg
3 tbsp. melted shortening
½ to ¾ cup coarsely cut dates

Sift flour with salt, baking powder and sugar; mix milk, egg and shortening and add all at once; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened, but not smooth. The batter will be lumpy. Add dates and stir quickly into batter. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full and bake in hot oven (400 to 425 deg. F.) about 25 minutes. Makes 1 dozen muffins.

Fashion

THERE'S A SORT of pleasant regimentation about life in the resort South, particularly Florida . . . so many hours for the beach, then the rest for pursuits like the track, gin rummy at the beach or country club porch . . . to mention only a few . . . and an individual variation on the classic theme in outfits is the smartest choice. Charles Cooper does something thoroughly exciting with a rough material in muted plaid design and white faille, creating this casual ensemble. Fringed sash ends are smart. The hat is of white faille, like the tailored, straight-skirted frock with crown and banding of plaid.

TRAVEL GARB FEATURES HARMONY OF COLOR TONES

By BETTINA BEDWELL

A HARMONY of tones, all part of one col combine to make some of the new trav ensembles a delight to the eyes, and arrant fla tery to the girl who wears such a costume bouquet. It isn't necessary to travel far in order to wear one of these tone-on-tone ensembles. They will be seen traveling on the subway or the bus as well as on the transcontinental plane or railroad.

The basic color from which a three, four, or five unit costume is made may be yellow, which is the darling of the fashion folks for the southern resort. A coat of a deep golden pumpkin shade, a jacket in a darker topaz tone, a skirt of paler yellow and a blouse of the same is an example.

Pink also is broken down into several shades, varying from watermelon to pastel, for ensembles of kind. And a favorite is in pale neutral shades, ranging from country cream down to beige or light brown.

The ensemble sketched is in these neutral shad with a coat of country cream tweed, a jacket sand beige and a skirt in a lighter beige.

Comedies, Morale Movies in Demand

Since Pearl Harbor the film companies are no longer lifting stories out of the headlines. Comedies and morale stuff, rather than serious, realistic stories, are now in Hollywood demand.

The Broadway choice of the season is "Junior Miss," that delightfully refreshing teen-age comedy which premiered here so successfully.

ENTHUSIASTIC FIRST NIGHTERS HAIL MYSTERY COMEDY 'MR. AND MRS NORTH'

Davis Praised for Adaptation Of Lockridges' Short Stories

By PEGGY DOYLE

For complete release from problems absorbing you and your air warden, run, don't walk to the Plymouth Theater, where "Mr. and Mrs. North," a "whodun'it" comedy adapted by Owen Davis from the Frances and Richard Lockridges' New Yorker stories, is a definite attraction.

"Mr. and Mrs. North," co-starring Owen Davis, Jr., and Lois Hall, opened last night with an unusually enthusiastic audience in attendance. It is concerned with a likeable young couple, played by young Davis and Miss Hall, who return to their apartment after an out-of-town week-end to discover a corpse occupying their scotch-and-gin closet.

The gendarmes, hastily summoned, accuse this and that friend of the amiable, young Norths but it is the feather-topped, engaging Mrs. North who eventually solves the seemingly unsolvable mystery.

Young Davis, who made his stage debut in "The Barker" and who has been seen in many recent "strawhat" productions, is entirely satisfactory as the persuasive, young Mr. North. He and Lois Hall, who may be remembered for her Harvard Dramatic Club production appearances, are a genuinely gracious, amusing young couple.

Their problems are yours the instant you hear them, and your concern about the murder that has been committed in their apartment during their absence is no less keen than theirs.

Owen Davis, Sr., that master playwright who has been concocting stage plots since the younger Owen was a gleam in his eye, has adapted this series of short detective stories by the Richard Lockridges with unbelieveably happy results.

The plot moves along with amazing ease and up to an eye-popping chmax. You'll probably never encounter a more heart-warming mystery comedy. Both young Davis and Miss Hall, happily married to each other, are excellent company together or en masse.

They have quantities of friends, and all of them eventually become involved in the Norths' search for the murderer who has brought trepidation and tall thinking to their hitherto carefare manse.

As the master of the household, young Davis, independent and unfettered by a routine, suburban household, proves to be of mercurial temperament.

Greek Star's Debut Here

Katina Paxinou, famous star of the Greek National Theater, Athens, who recently arrived in this country after a triumphant season in English in London, will make her American debut at the Colonial Theater on Monday evening, Jan. 19, in a revival of Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler." The play will be sponsored and directed by Luther Greene.

Principals engaged in Mme. Paxinou's support include Karen Morley, Ralph Forbes, Cecil Humphreys, Margaret Wycherly, Edward Trevor and Octavia Kenmore. Ethel Borden and Mary Cass Canfield have made the modern adaptation of "Hedda Gabler" being used for this presentation. The setting has been designed by Paul Morrison.

Mme. Paxinou, who fled from Athens when enemy hordes stormed the city, electrified London audiences in both "Elektra" and "Macbeth," which she played in her native tongue. Subsequently Charles B. Cochran presented her in English in a revival of Ibsen's "Ghosts" and she was acclaimed "the modern Duse."

ELSIE ROBINSON writes the woman's viewpoint, discusses everyday affairs and problems, regularly in the Boston American.

ROSALIND RUSSELL and Don Ameche (sticking close to the "Ameche") are to be seen in "The Feminine Touch" on Normandie screen, starting tomorrow.

GOLD MEDAL CAPSULES

NEWS TIP ON SUICIDE PACT WINS AWARD

Top prize of $5 in the weekly Record-American-Advertiser Tipster Contest goes this week to a Burlington man for a tip on the dramatic suicide pact of a young Somerville office worker and her married boss. The couple ended their lives by monoxide poisoning in a parked car in Burlington.

Second prize of $3 goes to a Lynn woman for reporting a spectacular general alarm fire in a Lynn church.

Prizes of $2 each were given a Chelsea woman for the tip on a three-alarm fire which destroyed a theater in that city, and a Marblehead man for reporting a $25,000 three-alarm fire in a Salem building which destroyed tons of federal foodstuffs.

Awards of $1 each went to 13 news-alert tipsters. They are: An East Boston man for news of a two-car crash in which two persons were injured; a Dorchester woman for a tip on an auto accident in Old Colony blvd. in which several were injured; a South Boston man for a tip that two cars overturned in a crash in that section; a Salisbury Beach man for reporting an auto-train collision in Topsfield; a Salem, N. H., woman for information that three persons were hurt when a car skidded into a pole in Milton.

A Roxbury woman for the tip that a man was killed by a street car in Roxbury; a Hyde Park man for reporting a man was struck and killed by an auto in West Roxbury; a Somerville woman for the tip a water main burst in that city; a Lynn woman for a tip a truck driver was injured in Lynn when his machine overturned; a Needham woman for phoning in that a child was killed by an automobile in that section; an Arlington man for the tip on a two-car crash; a South Boston man for a tip on an accidental death; a Haverhill man for reporting a two-alarm fire in that city.

If you see or hear of anything of news or picture value get in touch with the News Tip Editor, LIBerty 4000. Watch this column for weekly winners.

MISS HEARD OF VITAMINS, WHAT'S THIS "B COMPLEX"?
IT'S THE ONE BIG GROUP OF VITAMINS SCIENTISTS ARE TALKING MOST ABOUT. SHORTAGE OF IT PROBABLY KEEPS MILLIONS FROM FEELING AND LOOKING THEIR BEST. AND YOU CAN ONLY FIND THE ENTIRE B COMPLEX IN NATURAL SOURCES, SUCH AS YEAST
YOU MEAN FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST?
SURE DO! FLEISCHMANN'S IS THE BEST TO BUY BECAUSE IT HAS MORE ADDITIONAL VITAMINS THAN ANY OTHER YEAST! COSTS ONLY A FEW CENTS A CAKE, TOO. MAYBE IT WOULD DO YOU GOOD AND HERE'S THE SWELL NEW WAY TO TAKE FLEISCHMANN'S. DRINK IT IN TOMATO JUICE! JUST MASH A CAKE IN A DRY GLASS WITH A FORK, ADD A LITTLE TOMATO JUICE, STIR TILL BLENDED, FILL UP THE GLASS AND DRINK. DO IT TWICE A DAY. IT'S DELICIOUS!

If you bake at home, remember that Fleischmann's has more vitamin than any other yeast.

CLAPPER, SCHMIDT AILING AS BRUINS FACE HAWKS

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, TUESDAY, JAN. 6, 1942

By BILL GRIMES

Unless Dr. Martin J. Crotty, the club physician, puts his O. K. on Capt. "Dit" Clapper and Milt Schmidt, the Bruins will be below war strength when they tackle the Chicago Blackhawks tonight at the Boston Garden.

Over the week end, Clapper developed a heavy cold and was in bad shape on returning from New York where the Rossmen were unexpectedly set back by the Amerks. However, the Bruin leader's condition showed some improvement when Dr. Crotty called upon him this morning.

During the game with "Red" Dutton's Americans, Schmidt was checked by Pat Egan and until X-rays of his injury were taken yesterday, it was feared that the center of the Kraut line had suffered a dislocated shoulder. The plates showed negative as far as any break or dislocation was concerned. However, Schmidt is far from himself and may be ordered to sit out the contest

IMPRESSED ROSS

Harvey "Busher" Jackson, one of the all time outstanding N. H. L. left wingers, will make his début as a Bruin. The "Busher" refused to sign the contract offered him by Manager "Red" Dutton of the Brooklyn Americans and then announced his retirement. In the meantime, he had been suspended by the fiery boss of the Amerks.

Realizing that Canada may call some of the young players into active service, Manager Art Ross has been on a still hunt for replacements since before the start of the 1941-42 campaign.

While the Bruins were in Toronto on Christmas Day, Ross saw Jackson working out with Eddie Powers' Marlboro club. He was so impressed with the way that "Busher" handled himself that he immediately contacted Dutton. During the last game the Amerks played here (New Year's night), Ross and Dutton were in a huddle. Ross made a cash offer for the "Busher" but Dutton stalled until last Sunday night. Then, the deal was consummated.

For years, "Busher" was the outstanding left wing of the N. H. L. He's a Toronto product and broke into hockey with the Marlboros, an amateur club which has sent many stars to the N. H. L.

"Busher" was born in Toronto on January 17, 1911, so he'll not be 31 for eleven days. Along with Chuck Conacher, the "Busher" turned professional in the fall of 1929, and they formed the starting

Kovacs in Dog House With Other Players

There's open warfare brewing in this dizzy amateur whirl of gold being staged by the four greatest tennis players in the world.

FRANK KOVACS
Clowns to Victory

Frankie Kovacs, who is grinning and clowning his way into the complete limelight, has Don Budge, Fred Perry and Bobby Riggs united into a common front determined to batter the clown prince into submission.

This was very evident at the Boston Garden last night when Budge refused to speak to Kovacs and pulled every trick in his repertoire to embarrass the noisy California comedian.

Budge never let up for a moment and after taking the first set 6—1, Don was out to utterly humble Frankie—but he never got the chance. Kovacs suddenly made an about face and amazed 2502 spectators with the greatest assortment of shots ever seen at the Garden to take the next two sets, 6—4, 6—3.

KOVACS UNWORRIED

After the matches Budge said:

"I tired after that first set but I'll get going shortly. And, when I do, those laughs and cheers that Kovacs is getting will turn to ridicule."

Perry and Riggs both consoled Budge and they came to the conclusion that there's no stopping him the way he is going right at present. Frankie was ignored.

Kovacs was asked point-blank if there was trouble and he just grinned and answered:

"Let them go their way. That's all right with me as long as I keep beating them. I'm out for the money and I'm having a swell time knocking them off."

Unpredictable and hard to figure, Kovacs looked like a rank amateur in losing the first set to the four times national champion, 1—6, but then did a complete about face making the red-faced Budge all the more scarlet with brilliant 6—4, 6—3 triumphs.

Budge, evidently fed up on Ko-

Boston Writers To Honor Williams As 'Most Valuable'

The Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America announced yesterday it would award its annual Most Valuable plaque to Ted Williams, Red Sox .406 slugger, at the annual dinner Jan. 28 at the Copley-Plaza.

The Most Valuable trophy will be awarded this year in memory of Jake Morse, for years one of the finest baseball writers in local journalism, who originated the present system of scoring.

Williams received Most Valuable award, given in memory of Tim Murnane, two years ago.

It was also announced yesterday that Arthur Sampson of the Herald will be toastmaster.

SANTA ANITA, which has announced that its Winter race meeting is definitely off as a necessary military measure, will not attempt to stage the famous $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap at Hialeah Park, Fla. The owners of Hialeah Park had told Dave Wilson they would gladly give Santa Anita the use of their track if they wished it for the $100,000 classic.

Dr. Strubb stated that all nomination fees would be returned to the horsemen as soon as possible. The head of Santa Anita made it clear that the action was taken for military reasons alone.

"We want the public not to look upon this as a punishment or a restriction of their pleasure, but as a necessary decree of the governing forces of the United States."

When there was a blackout in San Francisco last Saturday night, hope of opening the Santa Anita meeting on Jan. 14 ended. At the time it was announced that planes had been sighted off the Pacific Coast which had not been identified.

There is an all-out war effort in California and in every other part of the United States. This is why the rulings of the Army and Navy officials, as well as those persons in charge of production and civilian defense, are being accepted without protest.

Case of Williams

TYPICAL of the new attitude in regard to service was that shown by the Red Sox when they were informed that Ted Williams, sensational young slugger, had been placed in 1A of the draft. Eddie Collins, a former service man himself, declared Williams would do what the government asked of him, and that the club would carry on as best it could.

Williams asserted he is prepared to take his place in the ranks with millions of other young Americans.

"I would like to get into the same company with Hank Greenberg," declared Ted. "Boy, we would have a heluva hitting club."

Williams, with the possible exception of Joe DiMaggio, is the highest valued player in baseball. He would easily bring $250,000 if placed on the auction block. I do not believe Tom Yawkey would consider any money offer for Williams.

Greenberg at 29 years of age is still worth $100,000 as a baseball asset.

While at Camp Devens in connection with a boxing show sponsored by the American Record, I asked Gen. Theodore Roosevelt what his attitude was in regard to star ball players like Greenberg and Williams being drafted.

"It is best for the morale of the entire army that everyone be treated the same regardless of their importance in athletics or in anything else.

"When soldiers know that no special favors are being granted to any group, they are more satisfied.

"I always go with my troops on night maneuvers. When it rains, I am the last man to go indoors. As long as my men see me taking it with them, they have high spirits. Army officers must always be willing to do everything that is asked of their men."

HEXTALL HOLDS NHL LEAD

The New York Rangers' high scoring line of Bryan Hextall, Lynn Patrick and Phil Watson continued to dominate the National Hockey League's scoring table during the past week, according to the Associated Press.

Hextall, leading marksman since the season got into full stride, topped the official scoring list issued today with 14 goals and 12 assists for a total of 26 points. Two points behind him were his linemates, Patrick and Watson, and Bill Cowley of Boston. Toronto's Gordie Drillon was next with 23 points.

Cowley, as usual, was the leading playmaker, with 20 assists, while Hextall's 14 goals stood as the high mark. Pat Egan of the Brooklyn Americans continued as bad man No. 1, having spent 55 minutes in the penalty box.

COAST HANDICAP ACES EYE FLORIDA PURSES

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 (AP)—Denied a shot at the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap in March, Mioland, Challedon and Pictor will try to salvage half that amount in Florida.

With Santa Anita's $1,000,000 racing season finally cancelled because of war conditions, a few rich owners plan to ship their top stars to Miami, New Orleans or Hot Springs, Ark.

Charles S. Howard's Mioland yesterday was topweighted at 128 pounds for the $50,000 Widener stakes at H'aleah Park March 7. His Porter's Cap, W. L. Brann's Pictor and Challedon, prepping for a comeback, and Gustave Ring's Cis Marion are other Anita residents eligible for the Widener.

WHIRLY STAYS WEST

However, Warren L. Wright's Whirlaway and a score of other turf stars, along with hundreds of lesser steeds, will stay at Santa Anita for varying periods.

Whirly and most of the other horses nominated for the hundred grand gallop weren't named for eastern or southern stakes. Most couldn't get there if they were eligible. There's a priority on transportation and racing horses don't rate high among defense demands.

Howard also will send Porter's Cap to Florida. He, Brann and Ring had made prior arrangements to ship to Miami.

E. F. Woodward sent three carloads of his Valdina Farms horses to New Orleans Sunday. He took care of the stable situation by having some constructed for his thoroughbreds. Howard, W. C. Stroube and the Millsdale Stable already had rented the few stalls available at New Orleans.

HARD LUCK HORSE

Closing of Santa Anita track, because the Army said it wanted to limit crowds to 5000 along the Pacific Coast, will throw more employes out of jobs.

Whirly, horse of the year in '41, may be hard luck horse of '42. Owner Wright and Trainer Ben Jones had seemed confident Whirly could win the hundred grand—and eclipse Seabiscuit's all-time money-winning record of $437,730.

Whether Whirly can keep fit until spring and then resume where he left off last fall may be answered at Churchill Downs.

Grid Pros Lose On All-Star Game

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—It cost the Chicago Bears and New York Giants $5401.62 to earn $26,654.84 for the Navy Relief Society in Sunday's pro All-Star game at the Polo Grounds.

The two clubs shared equally in the loss although the Giants' part in the game was only to furnish the invitation to use the grounds, a few players and Steve Owen to coach the All-Stars, who lost 35-24 to the Bears.

Financial details were announced today after a check for half the net receipts was presented to Rear Adm. Adolphus J. Andrews by Tim and Wellington Mara of the Giants. The Navy's share included $1000, representing a half share in the radio receipts, and $125 in donations.

The Pros received $26,529.83 and had expenses of $31,931.45 to stage the game. Largest items in this total were $12,979.80 for the Chicago team's expenses, $11,004.32 for the All-Stars' expenses and $3829.47 rental for the baseball park.

Officers' School For Spreyer

WILSON TACKS 3 WINNERS TO CARD SWEEP

Following up his sensational card sweeping stunt of last Saturday, Dave Wilson, undisputed "king" of turf handicappers in the country, picked up three more winners, including two code horses yesterday at Tropical Park.

Dave, year in and year out, has led all handicappers, and did the almost impossible when he successfully picked all the winners on the card Saturday, a feat which only one other turf expert has duplicated. Fred Keats, whose selections appear in the GREEN RACE SPECIAL and DAILY RECORD, performed the feat on two seven-race cards at New York tracks.

Dave gave the bankroll in his CODE SPECIALS a big boost when his code horses won as named and completed a straight parlay for him. The bankroll, started anew on Jan. 1, jumped from $100 to $192.80 in four days. Not a bad start for the New Year.

Dave's winners yesterday were: Out Front, $10.40 (code); Button Hole, $4.50 (code), and Dude $4.10.

The parlay on the two code winners amounted to $23.40.

Coast Meet Definitely Off

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 (AP)—The winter race meeting at Santa Anita Park was cancelled by Dr. Charles H. Strub, vice-president and general manager.

The meeting, scheduled to begin Dec. 31, was forestalled by military restrictions.

Dr. Strub made the announcement after returning from San Francisco, where he conferred with Col. D. A. Stroh of the staff of Lieut.-Gen. John L. De Witt, commanding officer of the Fourth Army. He said Col. Stroh told him there was little hope of resuming horse racing in California in the near future.

"Col. Stroh told me they would take under consideration our application and those of other sporting enterprises, but that there would have to be an improvement in conditions," said Dr. Strub.

Brazilian Girl Sets Swim Mark

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Jan. 6 (AP)—Miss Maria Lenk of Brazil, member of a touring group of South American swimming stars, added a new world record claim to her list here last night when she was timed at 5:53.2 in the 400-yard breaststroke.

Miss Lenk's mark will not become official until it is approved by the A. A. U., which sanctioned the meet. She already holds records for the 200 and 400-meter events. Her time last night cut 23.6 seconds off the mark set by Kathryn Rawls in 1932.

The Brazilian competed against Miss Patsy Aspinwall of Indianapolis, National A. A. U. titleholder.

The six South Americans dominated the meet, which was witnessed by 700 fans. In the 100-yard backstroke, Fonseca de Silva of Brazil bettered the pool record of the Youth Building by one-tenth of a second. He covered the distance in 1:04.5.

Steve Brooks Leads Fair Grounds Jockeys

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 6 (AP)—Steve Brooks, leading rider at the Hawthorne Track in Chicago, is pacing jockeys at the Fair Grounds meet.

The 20-year-old Nebraskan has booted home seven horses in the first eight days of the 42-day meet. Darrell Madden is in second place with six victories, including a triple.

Wood Sets Record For Miami Course

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 6 (INS)—Craig Wood, national open golf champion, today held the record for the Normandy Isle Country Club course beside the many other laurels he holds.

Wood, now resident professional at the club, blasted a 6-under-par 66—five birdies and an eagle—to break the record formerly held by Ben Yasko of Manchester, N. H.

BACKSTRETCH BREVITIES

While huge Santa Anita was being closed yesterday, Lou Smith said that the New Hampshire Jockey Club of which he is general manager had been authorized to conduct 60 days of racing at Rockingham Park, Salem, during 1942.

The meetings will be held, the first from July 20 to Aug. 8 and the second from Sept. 28 to Nov. 14.

Florida natives are becoming reconciled that this will not be a "super-colossal" winter on their tracks, although they are convinced it will be a good one.

Attendance has been slightly lower than that of a year ago at Tropical and the betting handle has averaged approximately 10 per cent less a day. The plant's new owners, however, feel that this loss is due to the general unsettled conditions brought on by the war.

De Kalb, at $4500, was the top claim of the 18 made during the first 13 days of the Tropical Park card. He moved into the stall vacated when W. Hirschensohn lost Army Song in like fashion for $3500.

That son of Man o' War came right back to win for his new owner. De Kalb won five races during 1941 and finished in the money on a dozen other occasions.

Lady Waterloo easily won the St. Augustine Purse at Tropical yesterday, doing the six furlong test in 1:11 2-5 and returning $13.90 to her backers.

W. M. Jefford's Riding Light was second with third going to Doubt Not, owned by Mrs. T. Christopher.

Conn McCreary was up on Lady Waterloo and the triumph meant a Monday double for him.

Mel Hein Ends Playing Days

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (INS)—The playing days of Mel Hein, for 11 years center of the New York Giants football team, were over today. Hein, considered by many experts the greatest center football has ever developed, expects to sign as a coach with an eastern college.

In the meantime he will take a short vacation and then return to work as a contact man for the Grumann Aircraft Engineering Co.

Hockey Fans Boo Puck Snatchers

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—War conditions are changing the habits of hockey fans.

Before the Brooklyn Americans took the ice for their first win over Boston since 1940, the spectators were asked to return rubber discs that might sail into the crowd. When the first puck disappeared into an overcoat pocket a concerted "boo" brought about its hasty reappearance.

Skiing Enthusiasts Can Fly to Fields

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

Skiing transportation is getting streamlined! Back in 1931, the first Snow Train started carrying large groups of skiers to the mountain regions. The ski fever soon began to spread, with increasing hundreds continuing to travel by snow train, and countless others driving up every week-end by automobile.

Bus lines commenced special trips to the ski fields, and there were even special snow boats to the European schuss centers.

Comes now the ski-plane!

AIDS DEFENSE WORKERS

The Northeast Airlines announce the introduction of ski-plane service from Boston to Mount Mansfield, Vt., and to the Canadian Laurentians. Thus the popularity of skiing as the supreme sport of the winter season has achieved a new element of modernism.

This service will be one means of making winter sports activity at resort regions available to defense workers and others with a minimum loss of time away from important duties on the war front. It will provide recreation and relaxation from the present cares of wartime pressures.

Two round trips daily between Boston and Burlington, Vt., and Montreal, Canada, make this ski-plane service of added interest to those who have little time for seeking sports.

SHOULD BE POPULAR

Using 24 passenger Douglas Airliners, the largest planes in commercial service on the East coast, with special compartments for ski equipment and baggage, Northeast Airlines opens up new skylanes for winter travel. In fact, enthusiasts will be able to reach distant ski centers in less time than is required to go by automobile or train to the nearest mountains from Boston.

These ski planes will be met by a special motor coach at Burlington and Montreal airports, transporting both skiers and equipment direct to hotels. This new travel medium offers a way to save time and tires, and should increase the popularity of winter vacations.

THOUGHTS WHILE SKIING: Many more cross-country trails should be developed in New England . . . This type of skiing is very necessary in national defense work, and there has been too much emphasis put on dizzy downhill descents. There are miles of winding, interesting trails right here in our own Monadnock Region, only 70 miles from Boston. We cannot understand why these trails have not been widened and improved. Cross-country skiing could be enjoyed by thousands of folks well above middle-age. Today's whizz-bum is not getting any younger, and in a distant future, may be glad to go in for long jaunts across country . . . Skiers! Let's try to practice control on the highways as well as on the trails. Drive slower in going and coming from ski centers. Help to maintain the high reputation skiers have made in the sports world.

Marine's Streak Faces Stern Test From Cabral

Freddie Cabral, foremost Portuguese fighter developed in this section since Al Mello, is confident he'll stop Garvey "Lefty" Young's streak when he clashes with the U. S. Marine Friday night at Mechanics Building.

"Lefty" Young

Cabral vs Young will be one of three eight-round main events, heading a Boston Boxing Association show, the first presentation of the club in 1942 and a show which will get the B.B.A. away to a flying start in the New Year.

Other eights will find Bill Tordiglione, North End, punching it out with Eddie Ellis, Quincy, and Sam Shumway, Webster, engaging in the "rubber" bout with Sailor Eddie Misko, U. S. Coast Guard.

Cabral and Young would seem to be the headliner of this thumping trio of scraps but then Shumway and Misco, show-stealers from way back, may do so again if they unfurl another of their fiery punchfests and belt one another all over the ring as is their custom.

LIKES TO FIGHT SOUTHPAWS

Cabral has been campaigning successfully on the West Coast and beating some of the foremost welterweights in California. He came home for the Christmas holidays and intends to remain here if he can get fights. He'll get 'em from matchmaker Jack O'Brien if he beats Young, the All-Service welterweight champion.

"I'll beat him all right," says Cabral. "I know what to do with southpaws and that's why most of Young's opponents have failed —they didn't know how to fathom his style."

Six-rounders Friday night will be Larry Pacino, Roxbury, vs. Irish Johnny Smith, Quincy, and Sal Cesario, North End, vs. Johnny Studley, Brockton. Johnny Daley, Newton, fights Mal Smallwood, Boston, in a four. Another four may be added.

QUITS SPEEDWAY POST

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 6 (AP)—Theodore E. (Pop) Myers, for 31 years in charge of the annual 500-mile automobile race here, though he himself never drove a car, said here he had "no more active duties with the speedway."

14,500 SAW HARVARD FIVE PLAY IN WEST

Considering that the games were played during vacation when most of the students had gone home, the Harvard basketball team proved an excellent drawing card on its recent jaunt through the midwest.

According to manager Paul Flamand, some 14,500 fans saw the Crimson hoopsters lose to Detroit, Michigan State, Bradley Tech, Illinois and Notre Dame. Capacity crowds in the Harvard gym would have totalled only about 7500.

. O MAKE BETTER PLAYERS

The first game, played with Detroit in the Olympia Stadium, drew the largest crowd of the campaign, 5000. The game with Bradley Tech, one of the nation's outstanding quintets, drew 2500 enthusiasts to the Woodruff High School gym, where Bradley plays all its home games. This was the largest crowd of the year to see the Tech team play on its home court. Harvard lost 48-44.

Coach Earl Brown expressed himself as pleased with the results of the trip. Before the team left, he said that the reason behind the trip was to make better players out of his athletes, just as better Harvard football players were developed from playing teams of consistently higher caliber.

ROMANO TOP SCORER

Five successive defeats in the midwest, all by small margins, were considered by Brown to have primed his team for the Eastern Intercollegiate League games beginning Friday night with Cornell as the opposition.

Joe Romano, veteran guard, led his mates on the western junket with 46 points. Chick Lutz, bespectacled brother of former Crimson ace Charley Lutz, was second with 37 points.

Flamand said that the biggest handicap the team had to face was glass backboards in its first two games, plus the fact that all the backboards were much livelier than those on local courts.

TOP SCORER—Joe Romano, Harvard's veteran guard, set the pace for Crimson hoopmen in the West. He caged 46 points in five games.

Soldier Bows To Bronzetti

In a free-swinging match which saw both battlers on the floor no less than eight times, Leo Bronzetti, of Framingham, emerged the victor by decision over Stanley Lagarski, a soldier from Camp Edwards, in the 175-pound final of the third Diamond Belt elimination tourney of the Irish-American A. A. at the Arena last night.

112 Pounds—Clem Crowley, Dorchester, defeated George Baker, Lynn, 3.

KRAUSE TO GO TO NOTRE DAME AS GRID AIDE

Ed "Moose" Krause, giant Holy Cross line coach for the last three years, will join the Notre Dame coaching staff this coming spring.

The way was paved for this appointment by an announcement out of South Bend last week that Bill Verney, one of Elmer Layden's holdovers, had resigned.

Frank Leahy had been using Verney as a freshman coach and it is believed that Krause will step into the same spot.

No statement has come from Notre Dame nor has Krause said anything about the move.

The announcement will probably come out of Notre Dame in the very near future.

Krause was an All-America tackle in football and an All-America center in basketball while playing with the "Irish."

After leaving Notre Dame, he was head coach and athletic director of a small Midwestern college for three years before coming to Holy Cross.

At Worcester, "Moose" was line coach, chief scout and he also organized basketball. In fact, he is now coaching the Purple hoopmen and will finish out the season.

PRO TENNIS PLAYERS TURN SOUR ON KOVACS

vacs' clowning and no little irked over the fact that he is in third place on this dizzy whirl of gold which includes 80 one night stands, was really out to hammer the playboy down to size.

And it looked as though he was going to do that little thing when he took five straight games after dropping the second. The long driving and precision baseline shots of Kovacs began to have effect and the red head started to tire.

In the second set Kovacs reeled off three games in a row and Budge made his last great flurry. He whistled the ball to every corner of the court, and in a twinkling turned an 0—3 rout to a 4—3 advantage for himself—but Don was about through.

Grinning Frankie powered his way to the next three games and took the first three in the final set before dropping another game. Budge was never close again, and though he took his defeat in apparent good grace it was evident that he didn't relish the loss in the least.

By his victory Kovacs now has a 4-2 record, putting him in second place behind Bobby Riggs, who, by easily beating Perry, has a 5-2 record as this tour completed its seventh night. Budge is third with 2-4 and Fred Perry is 0-3. The percentages at the end of the tour will be determined by wins and losses.

The Riggs-Perry affair wound up woth Bobby taking straight sets 6—4, 6—2.

Perry who returned to action Sunday night after a week's absence due to an injury, was far from himself. The English ace went out to a 4-2 lead in the first set but Riggs kept running him all over the court with telling results.

Fred just couldn't stand the pace and little Bobby won just about as he pleased.

The doubles match played for a $50 bonus found the veterans Perry and Budge downing Kovacs and Riggs in straight sets 6—2, 6—4.

Ariane Rated Best Since Sonja Henie

To the average spectator at ice spectacles the fact that any figure skating artist may boast of a Gold Medal means little. But to every European it is one of the greatest honors that can be received.

Figure skaters have spent years trying to win that Gold Medal but few have succeeded. One of the proud possessors of this great Continental achievement is Ariane, the 18-year-old Swiss bit of loveliness who will make her official bow to the New England public through the Silver Skates Derby at the Boston Garden on Jan. 18.

In fact, Ariane received her Gold Medal, highest known national and international reward for proficiency in school figure skating, just two years after taking her first test—something unheard of in London.

The story of Ariane is truly amazing. This charming Swiss girl, a member of one of the few races on the continent still permitted to live in apparent peace, gave up that comfort to come to London and was there for two years before leaving for the U. S. A. two months ago.

AMBULANCE DRIVER

Her desire to be in London was two-fold.

First she donated her services for war relief work and was an ambulance driver.

Second, she would be able to continue with her skating and tie it up with her war work by performing at as many benefits as possible.

While in London she studied under Gerschweiler and Mickeler, two of the greatest figure skating teachers in Europe. Both have been associated with Sonja Henie and are so highly rated by La Henie that the wife of Dan Topping sent a hurried call for Mickeler last winter to tour with the special ice show as her skating partner.

These two masters of the figure school have been lavish in their praise of Ariane and insist that this 18-year-old girl is the greatest ice skater to invade these shores since Sonja.

ONLY FIVE DAYS REMAIN

Surrounding Ariane will be a great show, as this seventh annual Record-American Silver Skates Derby unfolds at the Boston Garden on Jan. 18.

Particularly of interest to the Derby committee is the planning of this huge program so that it will run off with precision smoothness.

This naturally entails much work and Director Ben Levias has been forced to announce that all entries must close by Friday midnight.

Any letters postmarked after that date cannot be accepted.

line of the Leafs along with Joe Primeau.

Jackson is a 200 goal man in N.H.L. competition. During his first ten years in big time hockey, he scored 186 goals and was credited with 165 assists for a total of 351 points. He lead the N.H.L. for the 1931-32 season with 28 goals and 25 assists for 53 points, finished second the following year with 44 points and the next year he was third, trailing "Chuck" Conacher and Joe Primeau by 12 and 8 points respectively.

BROTHER ACT

There isn't any reason why "Busher" shouldn't prove a real asset to the Bruins. All of his life, he has been a "natural." He has never dissipated and is only 30 years of age. And, his playing weight has been about 190.

Unquestionably the "Busher" will see action tonight. He'll probably be at left wing on the third line in Herbie Cain's place. Although he has played with his brother, Art, tonight will mark the first time that the "Busher" has ever been assigned to the same line as his younger brother.

The Blackhawks haven't been in action since New Year's night, and Manager Paul Thompson is confident that his charges have snapped out of their slump.

"Red" Hamill, who was up and down from Hershey to the Bruins for three years, will be in the Hawks lineup. He was sold to Chicago on Dec. 16 and he'll be out to show the Boston fans that it was a mistake to let him go.

LACK OF ICE RETARDS HUB SCHOOL SIXES

When the Hub schoolboy hockey teams go into action Thursday and Saturday at the Garden, the most surprised people of the day will be all the coaches whose teams finish on top.

Not one of the 14 Boston schools that open their ice schedule this week, have seen any action whatever. That not only goes for active competition but also any practice so to speak.

Says Billy Murphy of Brighton: "My boys have been out only twice, once at the Garden and once outdoors. The Garden workout was only for half an hour and what can you do in that space of time? I have a tentative starting lineup, but with the exception that they were second stringers last year, I haven't the slightest idea what they can do this year."

Coach Bill Ohrenberger of English likewise was dubious and didn't know exactly what to make of it.

NO ONE HAS THE JUMP

"I can name a starting first line and my goalie because they played last year and I know what they can do but as far as the rest goes, that remains to be seen. We managed to get outdoors about five times, at Turners pond, Milton, and once in the Garden, but I'm still undecided what's what."

And so it was right down the line. Each coach had the same sad news. Lack of ice and practice.

Only four veterans are back with Bill Ohrenberger's English crew. He knows right now that he may not have the best team in the loop, but he's dead certain that his goaler and captain, Charlie O'Malley, is the best around.

GOOD WORD FOR FITZ

When Charlie takes his post between the gaspipes Thursday afternoon against Trade in the fourth game of the day he will be starting his fourth season as a goaler.

Paul Ferberg, Jake Maloney and Jim Rorke, his present starting line, are the other three players who saw service last winter. This trio played together as one unit and Ohrenberger, at present, plans to keep them that way. Maloney will be at center, Rorke at left wing, and Paul will start on the right flank.

He had a good word for "Red" Fitzgerald, a left winger who may be moved up. "Red" has worked with Joe Nagle and George Fraher in the second line but any one of this trio may be moved around.

All his defensemen are new. Vin Reardon is scheduled to hold down one of the posts and either Roger O'Donnell, John Rodd or Bob Barry is apt to start at the other spot.

ROAD WEARY OLYMPICS PLAY IN WASHINGTON

Boston's leg weary and somewhat crippled Olympics, still very much in the running for the Walker Cup series, will be seeking their first win of the year tonight over the Washington Eagles.

Following the Capitol meeting, both teams hop aboard a train headed for Boston, where the two rivals clash again on the Garden ice tomorrow night.

An added attraction is on tap when the Pics return to local ice. Prior to the Washington game the Junior Olympics, with four straight wins in the Lester Patrick intercity series, will play a service team from Fort Devens, starting at 6 p. m.

Coach Hago Harrington and his team's chances of annexing their first win over the Eagles this year aren't any too bright. He not only will be without the services of Danny Sullivan and Johnny Fitzgerald, but at least four of his other players are far from fit to play.

Both Sullivan and Fitzgerald are back in the Hub following the Sunday win over the New York Rovers, the former unable to go to Washington because of business and the latter returning home for repairs.

The quartet not in top-notch condition is Ray Chaisson, Lloyd Gronsdal, Jack McGill and Ty Anderson. Chaisson has a badly swollen ankle; Gonsdal and McGill have serious colds and Ty is also bothered by a cold.

JACK McGILL
Tied as Top Scorer

Despite his condition, Jack McGill, the Edmonton, Alberta, six-foot center of the second line, was able to score enough points and go into a first place tie for the team's lead with Ray Chaisson.

McGill added seven points, five assists and two goals, for a grand total of 35. Both he and Chaisson have identical marks, 13 goals and 22 assists.

The 20-year-old Canadian is the first Olympic to pull up on even terms with Chaisson who, since the opening game, has been the team's leading scorer.

Individual scoring at the conclusion of the first 24 games follows:

Player and Position	G.	A.	Tls.
Ray Chaisson, c	13	22	35
Jack McGill, c	13	22	35
Gronsdal, rw	21	10	31
Al Dumond, lw	12	18	30
John Fitzgerald, lw	6	15	21

Col. Nash Completes Hearst Shoot Board

By THE RIFLE EDITOR

Col. Nathaniel C. Nash, Jr., president of the National Rifle Ass'n, completes the board of experts for the New England section of the famed William Randolph Hearst Citizen Marksmanship gallery competition.

The presence of this outstanding national authority will focus great attention on the New England finals which will take place some time in May.

LAUDS W. R. HEARST

When asked to serve on the board Col. Nash readily accepted and was high in his praises for William Randolph Hearst. He said:

"The William Randolph Hearst Citizen Marksmanship gallery competition is a very excellent contribution to the development of skill in shooting among the prospective men of our armed forces during these critical times.

"It is a praiseworthy continuation of the patriotic support which Mr. Hearst has for many years given to the rifle shooting fraternity by his generous donations of money and prizes. He has wholeheartedly supported rifle matches among college and school R.O.T.C. units, the National Guard, civilians and other groups interested in the art of rifle shooting.

"He has always supported the aims and purposes of the National Rifle Association which, since 1871, has worked toward the same end and now represents about 150 clubs and 60,000 individual shooters.

"The organization is proud of the fact that in 1940 it issued 90,000 insignia of proficiency to junior rifle shooters.

"And as president of the National Rifle Ass'n I know intimately what Mr. Hearst has done for the advancement of rifle shooting and I will be happy to serve on the New England board for this great competition."

ENTRIES CLOSE JAN. 30

Other members of the board with Col. Nash are Capt. Louis E. Lutz, chairman; Capt. A. P. Lambert and Jack Conway, sports director of the Hearst newspapers in New England.

This board will decide all matters and help group clubs not affiliated with any league for the coming competition.

'Nothing to Fear, I've Sampled Louis'—Bud

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Jan. 6 (AP)—Jacob (Buddy) Baer is a simple soul with a simple philosophy.

So when he sits down for a chat and tells you, matter of factly, that he can't see what he has to worry about from Joe Louis you have to come pretty close to believing him.

He tells you this, mind you, in a tone about as worked up and tense as a fellow asking, "Please put a head on my beer." The big guy is no more scared than a Wake Island Marine.

This is definitely not a fighter giving his courage a shot in the arm with big talk. It's not Brother Maxie Baer, loud-talking for weeks before his big flop-eroo with Louis and then resting on one knee shaking his head as the referee asked him to get up. If Buddy is afraid of what might happen in his nose-flattening frolics with Louis in Madison Square Garden Friday night, then he ought to have Barrymore's profile—because he's every bit the actor.

"Look," he explained today as he started tapering off for his second crack at the heavyweight title, "I took Joe's Sunday shots last May and I'm still alive. Right? Well, then, knowing that, all I have to do is go in there and toss punches, or, if Joe tries to make a boxing match out of it, I'll dance right along with him. Only if it's that kind of a thing, it's going to be a real stinkeroo.

Holman Won't Change System

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Nat Holman, basketball coach at New York City College, isn't going to change his coaching system just because Western teams romped over Metropolitan fives in holiday doubleheaders at Madison Square Garden.

"Their one-handed shooting and galloping up and down the floor sure got results," said Holman, whose team lost to Wyoming, "but until New York high school coaches change their styles of teaching I'm going to insist that my boys use two hands. It's too late to make the change after they are in college."

Bitsy to Join Navy

ATLANTA, Jan. 6 (AP)—Bryan M. (Bitsy) Grant, the mighty atom of the tennnis courts, plans to enter the Navy.

The former national clay courts champion and ex-Davis Cup stroker said he was seeking a commission, but if he failed in that, he would enlist.

Being only five feet, four inches tall, Grant is under regulation height—but he figures exceptions may be made.

Pettinger Hot In Scoring Race

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Jan. 6 (AP)—Look out for Gordon Pettinger, the Hershey's brilliant play-maker; he's the hottest scorer in the American Hockey League today according to the past week's statistics reported by Pres. Maurice Podoloff.

Pettinger, coming up from a lowly spot, not only broke into the select[ed] of the circuit's leading score[rs] the first time this season, [with] 4 four goals and 27 assis[ts] 31 points is only one poin[t] pace being set by Lou Tru[dell] Washington.

Pe[ttinger] shares the runner-up spot [with] Bill Summerhill of Spr[ingfield] who picked up three poi[nts] the holiday week.

SEARCH OPENS SUNDAY FOR U. S. ICE QUEEN

Hariet Hoctor, famous ballerina now operating her own dancing school in this city, will be among the Board of Judges who'll pick "Miss Boston" for the National Queen of the Ice Contest, the Grand Finals of which will be staged in Hollywood the first week in May.

"Miss Boston" will be given a trip to Hollywood, with all expenses paid, and be elaborately gowned for the finals in which the U. S. Queen will be chosen by movie stars and officials.

SEARCH STARTS SUNDAY

The Board of Judges, including skating and beauty experts, is eminently qualified to decide upon the fortunate young lady who'll become "Miss Boston."

The search will start next Sunday night at the Arena when the first of four eliminations will be staged during intermission of the customary Sabbath p. m. public skating session. Director Paul V. Brown, general manager of the Arena, already has a handful of attractive entries.

Judging will be based on (1) beauty of face and figure (2) skating ability and (3) charm, poise and showmanship.

WRITE ARENA

Skating ability, it must be stated, will not be of great import in the eliminations. An entrant can qualify by merely skating once around the Arena. "Miss Boston," however, must be able to perform a 1½ minute routine in the Grand Finals in Hollywood and will be given instructions before the trip to Hollywood by Edi Scholdan and Mary Simpson, Arena skating instructors.

Contestants must be unmarried and be between the ages of 16 and 26 by next May.

Entry blanks and any information desired may be obtained at the Arena, Commonwealth 2040.

Twin Features On Mat Card

About the fastest mat program of the year, with four leading challengers hooked up in the two main events, will feature Promoter Paul Bowser's weekly wrestling tournament tomorrow night at the Boston Arena.

In one main event, "Sliding Bill" Hansen, from Salt Lake City, will meet George Macricortas, while the other will have Chief Osley Saunooke, 300-pound Cherokee Indian, facing Rudy LaDitzi, Poughkeepsie bad man.

In preliminaries, El Diablo will face Heinie Olson, Pete Baltran takes on Jack Marshall and Dr. John (Dropkick) Murphy will tangle with Jim Spencer.

Hostak to Take Gun For Uncle Sam Jan. 15

SEATTLE, Jan. 6 (AP)—Al Hostak, one-time world middleweight champion, will pick up a rifle Jan. 15 as a member of Uncle Sam's Army.

"I'm just a[n] guy and all I want to be [is] plain private," said Hostak today as he received his [ex]sport. "I just hope they [send] me over to Manila or s[omew]here where I can get a shot at [some] of those Japs. The sooner [the] better."

FAMOUS Ballerina, Harriet Hoctor, notable in the stage and show world, who'll e one of the judges in the selection of "Miss Boston" who'll represent this section in the Hollywood finals to pick the National Queen of the Ice. First elimination at which Miss Hoctor will be among the "jury" of 10 will be staged Sunday night at the Arena.

Alsab Assigned 109 in Widener

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 6 (AP)—Mrs. Albert Sabath's Alsab, the 1941 juvenile champion, will be assigned an impost of 109 pounds if his owner decides to enter him in the $50,000 added Widener Stake at Hialeah Park March 7.

Top impost among the 90 thoroughbreds eligible for the big event was assigned to Circle M. Ranch's Big Pebble, last year's winner, by Racing Secretary and Handicapper Charles J. McLennan. However, it is regarded as certain that Big Pebble, weighted at 129, will not be entered.

He had to be withdrawn from racing because of an injured tendon.

Kansas Matmen Start 3000-Mile Tour

MANHATTAN, Kan., Jan. 6 (AP)—Coach B. R. Patterson and his 11-man Kansas State wrestling team were off today on a 3000-mile jaunt which will take them to the mat with four of the nation's top-flight teams.

The schedule include Franklin-Marshall, Lehigh, Michigan and Michigan State.
